FOREWORD

Since the beginning of this century,many efforts have been made to gather together whatever information was available about the Jenney family,and put it into a book for the family. Material has been gathered,compiled, and updated many times. Miss Bertha Clark succeeded in having her manuscript reproduced and placed in many libraries across the United States,but even these are not available to all the family.

Mrs.Susan Tufts was hired by the Jenney Oil Company Jenneys,-Mr.Bernard Jenney and Mr.Charles Stoddard Jenney,-to compile their many notes. She did so,added much to their work,but died before they could be readied for publication.

This compiler has taken both of these manuscripts, compiled them,updated them,and added some small pieces of research. She is indebted to the late Mr.Frederick Garfield Jenney of Saunderstown,R.I.,who made a copy of the Clark work available,and to Mr.Robert M.Jenney of Brookline,MA,who loaned the Jenney Manufacturing Company's copy of the Tufts work.

Her thanks,also,to the many Jenneys who answered her inquiry,enabling her to bring many lines up to the present.

THE JENNEY BOOK

John Jenney, the first of his name in America, came to Plymouth, Massachusetts, in the Little James, arriving in August, 1623.

The date and place of his birth have not yet been discovered, although many have jumped to as many unverified conclusions. The earliest record of John Jenney has been preserved, and may be seen at Leyden, Holland, and is not written in English, but in seventeenth century Holland Dutch. It reads:

John Jenney single man, brewers man from Norwich in England, now dwelling in Rotterdam, accompanied by Roger Wilson his acquaintance, with
Sarah Carey, single woman, from Monksoon, in England, accompanied by Joanna Lyons, her acquaintance.

The three dates given at upper left signify that the banns had been published three times; on the sixth, the thirteenth and the twentieth of September. A photograph of the marriage record is shown opposite.

The Jenney family in England, is said by Burke in his "History of the Commoners of Great Britain and Ireland" to have originated in France, where the family assumed its surname from the town of Guisnes, near Calais. It probably came into England at the time of William the Conqueror; proprietors of the name of De Guisneto, De Gisne or Gyney, were soon after the conquest possessed of the Manor of Haviland in Norfolk, and they held this until the time of Henry V. (1413-1422). From that house it would appear that the family branched out and that the name in the process of time changed from Gyney to Jenney, the mode in which it has been spelled since the beginning of the fifteenth century, at least. In 1385, Thomas, son of Sir Thomas deGyney, knight, "enfoffed" his Manor of Gislingham, in Suffolk, called Geneys, which he had lately purchased; this manor bore the name of "Jennies" as late as 1836.

As John Jenney of Plymouth, in New England, was often called "gent" and "gentleman" in the early records, it is possible that he is descended from a branch of this early family.

After their marriage the Jenneys made their home in Leyden, and were members there of the famous Separatist congregation of which the pastor was the Reverend John Robinson,chief promoter,together with Elder William Brewster,of the Pilgrim settlement at Plymouth. Governor Winslow in his "Brief Narration"(1646) recalls the days when he,too,was a member of the Leyden Church,and adds this delightful touch about John Jenney. "As for the Dutch,it was usual for our members that understood the language and lived in or occasionally came over to Leyden to communicate with them,as one,John Jenney,a brewer,long did, his wife and family,&c,and without any offense to the church." 40

Three children were born to the Jenneys while they lived in Holland: Samuel,Abigail and one that died in infancy and was buried in St Peter's yard June 16,1618. From the burial record we know that the parent's home was on Veldestraat. (Field Street) 41

It was in the spring of 1623 that the two ships bound for Plymouth set out from Land's End in England : the larger called tha Ann,the smaller one the Little James. The Jenneys were in the latter ,and were to be at sea three months and two days,arriving in August. We have details of the ships and the voyage from three sources: from Governor Winslow,who, 35 having come on the Mayflower in 1620,was on hand to greet the new arrivals; from Nathaniel Morton,author of "New England's Memorial",who as a boy of ten was a passenger on either the Ann or the Little James,-probably the latter; and from John Bridges,who was master of the Little James. 42

Winslow wrote,"In the latter end of July,and the beginning of August,came two ships with supply unto us;who brought all their passengers,except one,in health,who recovered in short time... The bigger ship,called the Anne,was hired,and there again freighted back; from whence we set sail on the 10th of September. The lesser,called the Little James,was built for the Company at their charge. She was now fitted for trade and discovery to the southward of Cape Cod."

Morton,nearly a half-century after the voyage,wrote."About ten days after the arrival of the ship called the Ann,above named,there came in another small ship of about forty-four tons, named the James,Mr.Bridges being master thereof; which ship the Ann had lost at sea by reason of foul weather; she was a 35 fine vessel,built to stay in the country. One of the principal passengers that came in her was Mr.John Jenney,a godly,though otherwise plain man,yet singular for the publicness of spirit, setting himself to seek and promote the common good of the plantation of New Plymouth; who spent not only his part of this ship,(being part owner thereof) in the general concernment of the plantation,but also afterward was a leading man on promoting the general interest of this colony."

The ship's master,John Bridges, saw our Jenneys with other eyes and from a different angle. On September 9,1623,writing from Plymouth,he sent his report on the voyage to James Sherley, one of the Merchant Adventurers who had built the ship and sent her on this,her maiden voyage. He said,in part,"After a long and troublesome passag we safeley araived at our port with all our company and one more for Goodey Jennengs was delevered of a child in the ship a month before we cam a shore and are both well yet god be praised....there never was a finer bote, but as for the companey are men good too but young greene hedded felowes and very uncarefull of aney husbandrey in a ship whitch makes my trubble grete for lack of a staid man for our howld We had a greate maney thinges that might have ben saved for Jenenges he had no laisor for all he could doe with more help was to lettel for to give tendance to hislazey wife for toppe 43 he and all the rest would not take paines for theay asailed for nothing. So that from one to another I never lived with more discontent in my life then I have done...yf we had not renewed our vetales at the Ile of Wight we cum short of drink especially for we caryed but 4 hogs hedes of beare in with us and other provetiones mutch wasted."

Banks says John Jenney came as ship's cooper. The child born at sea in July was his daughter Sarah,as we learn from 39 the list of names of those who drew lots at the first division of community cattle. 1

Nathaniel Morton,quoted on the previous page,describes the pitiful conditions at Plymouth in the summer of 1623,and the effect this had on the newcomers: "Those passengers,seeing the low and poor condition of those that were here before them,were much daunted and dismayed,and,according to their divers humors,were diversley affected. Some wished themselves in England again,others fell on weeping,fancying their own misery in what they saw in others;other some pitying the distress they saw in their friends,-in a word,all were full of sadness,only some of their old friends rejoiced to see them, and that it was no worse with them,for they could not expect it should be better,and now hoped they should enjoy better days together. And truely it was no marvel they should be thus affected, for they were in a very low condition,both in respect of food and clothing at that time."

Soon after the arrival of the Ann and the Little James, in the fall of 1623,there was a complete redistribution of Plymouth land,recent arrivals sharing equally with those who had come earlier on the Mayflower and the Fortune. For many years to come,a careful distinction would be made between those who came in these four ships,all known as First Comers and all who came after them . The distribution of land in 1623 was by lot, the acerage being proportioned to the number of heads in each household. The Jenney family of five drew "land beyond the brooke (that is, Town Brook) to Strawberry Hill." It is described as butting against the swamp and reed ponds. Strawberry Hill was later known as Watsons. Its Indian name was Cantaughcantiest. (Planted Fields.)

Up until 1626 Plymouth people had been transported thither and had had their supplies brought to them by a company of merchant adventurers with whom they had a seven year contract. When the term of the contract was nearing its end, Governor Bradford and eight other Plymouth men, including John Jenney, advanced funds to send Isaac Allerton to England to arrange to buy out the interests of the Adventurers. On Allerton's return, the group, now called the "Purchasers", and now joined by many others, assumed payment of the £ 1800 to the Adventurers, and the payment of the rest of the Colony's indebtedness, amounting to £ 2600, in return for which they were granted a monopoly of the Colony's trade. It was in the contract also that the Purchasers were to import yearly £ 50 in hoes and shoes, and that they were to sell Indian corn at six shillings per bushel.

From the above, it will be seen that John Jenney was well off financially. He had money to invest. He was not a statesman, nor a diplomat, -but a very shrewd businessman, -not always successful in his ventures, and sometimes needing curbing, but again and again appointed to advise or to serve on committees with those who were highest in authority, as will be seen on checking through the long list of his activities in Plymouth. Indeed, it would seem that, following the career of John Jenney from the time of his landing in 1623 to his death in 1644, one gets a rather complete picture of what life was like in that span of twenty-one years:

May 22, 1627 On this date there was a division by lot of the community cattle. "The twelveth lott fell to John Jenne & his companie joyned to him

his wife Sarah Jene	Ephriam Hickes
Samuel Jene	Lydia Kickes
Abigail Jene	Phebe Hickes
Sara Jene	Stephen Deane
Robert Hickes	Edward Bangs
Margaret Hickes
Samuel Hickes

"To this lott fell the great white backt cow wch was brought over with the first in the Ann to wch cow the keeping of the bull was joyned for thes psonts to pvide for heere also two shee goats."

1628 was the year in which John Jenney built at Rocky Nook (in the part of Plymouth that is now Kingston) a house that a few years later he sold to John Howland. This house aroused considerable interest in 1938 when excavations there discovered many relics,-the ancient fireplace,nails,antique bits,-some of which must have gone back to the days when the Jenneys lived there. 1 75

1633 "The names of the Freemen of the incorporation of Plymouth in New England Ano 1633" is the earliest list of Plymouth Freemen that has come down to us. There are sixty-eight names in it,that of John Jenney being fourteenth. 2

Jan 2,1633 This is the date of the earliest tax list we have found for Plymouth. Only two men paid a higher tax than did John Jenney;Isaac Allerton and Governor Winslow. 2

July 25 1633 "John Smith hath covenanted to serve John Jenney the full terme of seven yeares,after the manner of an apprentise,beginning the 24 of June this prnt yeare, at the xpiracon whereof the sd John Jenny to give him twelve bushels of corne & twenty-five acres. 2

July 30 1633 On that date Samuel Fuller wrote his will,one item in it being a bequest "unto John Jenny and Joh. Winslow (the Governor's son) each of them a paire of gloves at five shillings."also in the will Mr. Fuller mentions debts to be paid,including the following one,"Also where as there is an Acco between John Jenny Manassah Kempton and myself wherein we are all debtors to John Cheew my desire is my pt may be paid." and it was John Jenney and Stephen Hopkins who on the second of January following took inventory of Mr.Fuller's estate. It would seem that the Fullers and Jenneys were near neighbors,for when several years later the widow Fuller and her son sold lands at Strawberry Hill,it was described as being bounded on one side by Mr.Jennings land. 74 1

Oct.10,1633 When on this date the inventory of Peter Brown's estate was taken at Plymouth,in it was this item: "Owing him by John Jenny £ 1." 74

Oct.24,1633 On this date John Jenney and John Winslow took inventory of John Adams' estate at Plymouth. 74

Also on this date,Godbert Godbertson's estate was taken,that estate owed John Jenney 19 s 4d for corne valued at 5s per bushel.

Jan 1 1634 "Tho.Higgens having lived an extravagant life, was placed with John Jenny for eight yeares to serve him as apperntise,during wch time the sd John competently to provide for him,& at the end thereof to give him double app'ell,12 bushells of corne and 20 acres of land." 2

Jan.2 1634 John Jenney was one of a group of men appointed on this day (as he had been so appointed in 1633,) to fix the tax rate for Plymouth Colony. In a list of 81 taxed that year,four men paid more than he;seven paid the same as he,and 69 paid less. 2

Jan 6,1634 "Sam[l] Jenny,the sonne of John Jenney,by the consent of said John hath bound himselfe apprentise to Kanelm Wynslowe...etc" 2

Oct.1,1634 John Jenney and six others were appointed to lay out highways for Plymouth. 2

Jan.5,1635 "Twenty-seven pound of bever,being 25 skinsnes, whereof 14 were greate ones & the rest smale ones, were attached & delivered unto John Jenney for use of Mr Isaak Allerton or his assignes." 2

"Ano 1635:memerand that Mr John Jeney sould unto George Watson the dwelling house & garden ,-which was sometimes Richard Mastersons for Ł 23." Davis in "Ancient Landmarks" states that John Jenney had bought this land after the death of Masterson,which occurred in 1633,and describes it as lying on Emerald Street and bounded in part by Sandwich, Water and Bradford Streets. 47

Jan.5,1636 "At this court was chosen to assist ye Gov[r] & Counsell to sett shuch rates on goods to be sould,& labourers for their hire,as should be meete & juste,-

John Done	John Jeney
John Winslow	John Browne
Manassah Kempton	John Barnes
Kenelm Winslow

Mar 2,1636 John Jenney served on the coroner's jury when John Deacon was found dead from exposure in the extreme cold. Jenney's name is first on the list of jurors. 2

Mar.2,1636 It is ordered that "Mr John Done,John Jeny,Manaseh Kempton,Joshua Pratt,John Winslow,Edw.Bangs,and Stephen Tracey be added to the Gov[r] & assistants,for the ceasing of men for the publick charge of this prnt yeare." 2

Mar.14,1636 "Ordered that John Jeny (and Edw.Holman wth him, for a cow & a calf) have the grownd from John Wynslow downward to Mr Allertons howse,or the creeke there." 2

Mar.14.1636 A committee of eight was appointed to discover a meetinghouse site that would be convenient for both Plymouth and Duxbury. The two sites most acceptable were the Jones River and Mortons Hole. The representatives: 2

For Duxbury	For Plymouth
William Collier	Capt.Miles Standish
Stephen Tracey	Manasseh Kempton
John Howland	George Kenrick
Edm.Chandler	John Jenney
Josua Pratt	Edward Bangs

They reported that seven preferred Jones River and two preferred Mortons Hole. The matter was then left to the two churches for final decision.

Aug.26,1636 Edward Holman complained that John Jenney would not make payment for "a peece he lost in his service, but the thing being heard,the said John Jenney was acquitted." 2

Oct.4& 5 1636 It was found that the Colony Laws needed revising. A committee was appointed,consisting of four men from Plymouth,two from Duxbury,and two from Scituate,who were to be "joined to the Governor and Council for the preparation of a regular system of laws." The four men from Plymouth were William Brewster,Ralph Smith,John Done and John Jenney. They were to meet on November 15. 2

Jan.3,1637 William Bradford was elected Governor,and John Jenney was sworn in,on the seventh of March,as one of his seven assistants. 2

Jan.6,1637 "It is ordered by the court that the corne seized of John Jenney Thomas Willet & Georg Watson by the Gov^{r} to the use of the Colony by vertue of a form law shal be referred to the bench to deale wth as they shall see cause. It is ordered by the Court that Mr. Collyer Mr Hopkins Mr Browne Mr Done John Jenney Jonathan Brewster John Winslowe & Thomas Willett shall treate with those that have the trade in their hands to prepare such conclusions concerning the same that the court being made acquainted there wth and approveing thereof may conclude the same with them." 3

Jan.6,1637 "Whereas John Jenney,Thomas Willett,and George Watson did,contrary to the ancient lawes of this colony,trade with the Indians for corne,and thereby both the quantities of corne and the value thereof (sic) was forfaited to the collony,and that therefore the corne so traded contrary to law was seized to the use of the colony,and that afterwards by a publike order made in court,it was referred to the bench,the said bench doth now order that one half of the said corne and the forfeiture besides,shalbe freely given to them againe and the other half of the corne shalbe delifered to the treasurer for the use of the colony, to be disposed of as the bench see fitt."
" It is also agreed that six acres of lands of John Jenney,and the two acres of M^{ris} Fuller,lying att 2
Strawberry Hill,enclosed by Mr.Ralph Smith,shalbe yielded up unto them this yeare,that they may ymprove them to the setting of corne,provided that the said John Jenney shall erect a dwelling house neere or upon the said six acres,wch are to belong unto the said house as long as it shalbe a dwelling.

Mar 7,1637 A list of freemen of Plymouth bearing this date contains 123 names,the name of "John Jenney,gent." is #9 and then,-evidently by error,-is repeated as #17. "It is concluded upon the Court that Mr John Jenney shall have libertie to erect a mille for grinding and beating of corne upon the brooke of Plymouth to be to him and his heires forever. And shall have a pottle of Corne tole upon every bushell for grinding the same for 44 the space of the first two years next afterward but a quart at a bushell for all that is brought to the mille by others,but if he fetch it and grind it himself or by his servants then to have a pottle toll for every bushell as before."

Mar.20,1637 A committee was appointed to view the grounds suitable for hay from Plymouth to Iland Creek,with the purpose of making a distribution of such land.The committee comprised of the Governor (Mr.Bradford), Mr.John Jenney,Mr.John Browne,and the "messenger". In later distribution,John Jenney was given "Where 2 he had the last yeare,and to edge more upon the sedgy place,that there may be hey also gott there for the teame of the town."

May 20 1637 John Jenney entered a complaint against Samuel Chaundler to the amount of £ 20,"whereupon a parcell of beaver of the defents was arrested aboard the said Mr.Jenney's Bark." One Edmund Chaundler agreed to pay Mr.Jenney in installments and so the matter was settled. 2

The Bark mentioned was,according to Goodwin's "Pilgrim Republic" a " new Barque in 1637." It seems to have been called simply "John Jenney's Barque" We judge that Jenney's chief interest was in trade,- trade with his fellow townsmen,trade with Indians, coastal trade in his Barque,and trade overseas with English and Dutch. And unquestionably with his trading he used his barque to promote Colony interests,and was trusted with them,as can be seen even from the brief mention of him is a letter Governor Winslow wrote to Governor Winthrop of the Massachusetts Bay Colony when trouble was at its height.:

June 5,1637 On this date Winslow wrote:"We have heard no more ....of the last expedition of our brethern and Capt.Underhill,(except for word brought) by Capt. Standish his Indian,who was sent this morning to Nemasket,and saith the defeat of the fort is true and that only three English were slaine in the taking of it. As also that the aforesaid English and Capt.Patrick are still at Narrogthogganset, and have been dais,which makes us jelous and shall be till we hear from you,and the rather because you heard nothing from any of them by letter when John Jenney came away. I pray you,let us heare." 44

June 7,1637 As one of the Governor's council,John Jenney was a member of the court that voted on this date to send aid to Massachusetts Bay and Connecticut Colonies to help them in their fight against the "Peguin Indians".A call was sent out for volunteers and about forty Plymouth men responded;and the fourth in the list of volunteers of the "soldiers that willingly offer themselves to goe upon the sd service." was the name of John Jenney's son,Samuel. 2

Aug.6,1637 Mr.Edward Winslow and Mr.John Jenney were directed to view land to be set off for John Derby. 2

Mar.5,1638 On this date John Jenney was granted 150 acres "on the east side of the Six Mile Brook,in the way to Namascutt,to bee a farme belonging to the towne of Plymouth & to be called by the name of Lakenham. And whereas there was not enough land on the east side of the brook,the Court graunted unto him a certaine necke which is bounded as followeth: viz by Lakenham Brooke on the one side,and with a swamp on the other side,with a small broke in it." 2

Mar.6,1638 Mr.Thomas Prince was elected Governer,and for his seven assistants these were elected: Mr.William

Bradford ,Mr.Edward Winslow,Capt.Miles Standish, Mr.John Alden,Mr.John Jenney,Mr.John Atwood,and Mr.John Brown. 2

Apr.2,1638 (evidently referring to aforementioned grant) "The first grant of land within the ancient bounds of Plympton was made to John Jenney on the second day of April 1638 by the court of Assistants. On that day it was ordered that all the residue of the lands reserved for the mill,whereof the five or six acres aforesaid is a part,is with Mr.Jenney's consent granted to Gabriell Fallowell,and Mr.Jenney hath other lands granted in liu thereof at Lakenham." 49

Commenting on the name Lakenham,Col.Banks points out that Lakenham in England is a suburb of Norwich,it may he he who proposed the name for a suburb of Plymouth. 39

June 5,1638 When,in March 1638,John Jenney was for a second time elected to be a Governor's assistant,he was absent from Plymouth,-probably on one of his trading voyages,and the record for the following June is,- "Forasmuch as Mr.Winslow & Mr.Jenney were elected assistants in the last Court,and were absent & so could not be sworne,the court doth order that the Gov^{r} and the rest of the Assistants shall administer the oath unto them if they returns home before the next court." 2

Aug.7,1638 "Mr.John Jenney was sworne for an assistant according to the form elecon and the orders of the Gen^{ll} Court." 2

Aug.29,1638 John Jenney bought of Web Adey a house and garden in Plymouth and three acres of land in the new field. 1

Sept.4,1638 Mr.John Jenney was presented (to himself and the other assistants) "for diging downe the highway before his mill,to the endangering of man and beast." 2

Sept.4,1638. Before the Court sitting this day three white men were tried for the murder of an Indian names Penowanyanquis. The biographer of Franklin D.Roosevelt (a descendant of John Jenney) gives these details of the incident; " In 1638 John Jenney,being an assistant Governor under Governor Thomas Prence,was one of the magistrates before whom three white men were tried for the murder of an Indian. Four servants in Plymouth ran away from their masters. When they came near Providence they came upon a lone Indian who was returning from a trading trip to Boston. One of the men ran his sword through the Indian,whom they robbed and left for dead. The Indian recovered and made his way to his tribe,the Narragansetts,some of whom captured the murderer and two of his companions and took them prisoner to the authorities,for the injured Indian had died of his wounds,in spite of being treated by a physician provided by Roger Williams. The prisoners were turned over to Plymouth for trial; Roger Williams was a 77 chief witness whereat. The verdict was guilty,and the men were hanged in the presence of many Narragansett Indians,who,till the outcome,had been doubtful that a white court would put to death a white man for the killing of an Indian.

Feb.2,1639 Mr.John Jenney sold to Mr.John Howland for £ 82 and three acres of land at Caughtaughcanteist (Strawberry Hill) on the south side of Plymouth "all that his house,barns,and out houses at Rocky Nook together with all the land thereunto belonging." 1 besides five acres of meadow,etc. This was the estate described on page five,where interesting excavations were made.

Mar.5,1639 Mr.John Jenney was presented (again to himself and the other assistants) "for not grinding corne serviceable,but to greate losse & damage,both in not grinding it well,as also causing men to stay long before it can be ground,except his servant be 2 fed. But also for not keeping his stampers going, wch is much to the detryment of all."

On this same date William Bradford was elected Governer for the fourth time (at scattered intervals) and John Jenney was elected Assistant for the third time,the other assistants being: Thomas Prence, (retiring governor) Capt.Miles Standish,John Alden, John Brown,William Collyer,Timothy Hatherly. 2

June 4,1639 Those elected in March sworn in. 2

June 10,1639 John Jenney bought from Richard Cluffe of Plymouth tailor,for £ 15 a house and garden "wth twenty posts and fourty railes and two hundred of pallasadoes lying in the woods." 1

Dec.2,1639 It was voted that four men should have garden plots "when the Gov^{r} Mr.Prence Mr.John Jenney have viewed yt." 2

Jan.6,1640 The Court authorized land to be laid out for Thomas Clark,by Mr.Thomas Prence,Mr.John Jenney,and Joshua Pratt. 2

Mar.2,1640 We have seen that in 1627 John Jenney was one of the eight men who joined with Gov.Bradford in purchasing the rights of the merchant Adventurers and in assuming payment of the Colony's debts in return for a monopoly of the Colony's trade. Gradually others had been admitted as "Purchasers" until by 1640 there were fifty-eight of them. On the second of March of that year Gov.Bradford 45 surrendered to these fifty-eight the patent of the Colony,which had been issued in his name. Of these fifty-eight there were twenty-two who were distinguished from the others as "Old Comers". In the list of twenty-two Old Comers,John Jenney's name stands sixth.

Mar 3,1640 William Bradford was re-elected Governor. His seven assistants were: Mr.Thomas Prence,Mr.William Collyer, Capt.Miles Standish,Mr.Timothy Hatherly,Mr.John Jenney, Mr.John Browne and Mr.Edmund Freeman. 2

May 5,1640 Seven men,the first named being John Jenney,were appointed to view the meadows about Edward Doty's and to computate the number of acres and report. 2

June 2,1640 Samuel Chaundler sued John Jenney,gent.,for trespass. Chaundler won £ 40 and the cost of the suit. 2

Nov.30,1640 John Jenney was appointed ,together with Thomas Prence and Joshua Pratt,to lay out land for Richard Higgens. 2

June 21,1641 For four consecutive years,1637,1638,1639 and 1640, John Jenney had been elected one of the Governor's Assistants, In 1641 he was instead sent by the Town of Plymouth as their delegate,or Deputy,to the Assembly or General Court. Without attempting to make an exact count,we note casually twenty-eight sessions of the General Court at which John Jenney was present as a magistrate within this period of five years. As such,his influence in the making of Plymouth laws and the shaping of Plymouth practice must have been considerable.

At a Town Meeting of this date,"It is agreed upon that every householder within the Township shall pay half a penny for every pson in his family to him that shall kill a woolfe for every woolfe that is killed within the liberties of the township (except poor psons that have not cattell) and shall bringe the skin to Mr.John Jenney and there receive corne for his pay but Mr.Jenney shall have the skinn for his paynes in delivering forth the corn."

At the same Town Meeting:"Whereas Clarkes Illand is granted to the Towne of Plymouth and Mr John Jenney is desirous to set up the making of salt there the Townesmen of Plymouth to further the said worke doth grant the said John Jenney and his assigns the wood upon said iland for makeing of salt there without the consent of the said John Jenney or his assigns and shall sell the Townespeople of Plymouth good salt for two shillings the bushel pvded that the said John Jenney shall not hereafter assigne the said salt workes to any man wch not Towne of Plymouth without the townseman's consent."

Sept.16,1641 "Mr.John Jenney is graunted as much upland more as will make his farme at Lakenham two hundred acres,and when this is used,then to have more aded, to yt,in lue of some land he hath yeilded up at the Towne to Gabriell Fallowell." In 1659, long after Mr.Jenney died,this land was described as follows:"The bounds of a certain tract or pcell of land containing forty acres which was granted Mr.John Jenings att Lakenham in lue of some land the said John Jenings relinquished unto Gabriell ffallowell lying neare the towne of Plymouth. The bounds of said tract of land att Lakenham containing forty acres is as followeth viz it runs along the south side of the path that is going to Taunton..." 74

Sept.16,1641 John Jenney is appointed with two others to lay out land for Andrew Ring; he is appointed with two others to lay out land for Edward Bangs. 2

Dec.31,1641 On this date Governor Bradford and a committee of five,including John Jenney,were authorized to make grants of land to inhabitants of Plymouth. Many such grants were made,including one to John Cooke "after Mr.Prence,Mr.Howland,and Mr.Jenney & Joshua Pratt have viewed it." 2

Jan.4,1642 "Mr.John Jenney & Mr.Willm Paddy are to be added to those that are to dispese of the poores stock (formerly nominated) instead of Mr.Hopkins ,and to have liberty to alter or change them or some of them for such cattell as may be most usefull for the help of the poor." A town meeting was called on the following seventh of July "for disposing of the Towne's stock of cattell called the poores cattell before Mr. Bradford Mr Thomas Prence Mr John Jenney Mr William Paddy Mr Thomas Willett and John Dunhame appoynted with some others to dispose thereof."
One of the very spectacular achievements of old Plymouth Colony was formally begus on this date:a venture in ship-building,and John Jenney was one of the promoters of the project. The record names the contributors for" Building of a bark of 40 or 50 tons,estimated at the charge of £200." William Paddy, William Hanbury and John Barnes each contributed one-eighth of the charge,Wm Bradford,John Jenney,John Atwood,Samuel Hicks,George Power,John Cook and his father,Francis,Samuel Jenney ,Thomas Willett,Mr. Hopkins and Edward Bangs each contributed one-sixteenth.

1642 In the winter and spring of 1642 Mr.Jenney went into partnership in corn trade and many times had to get attention in the Colony Court.

Sept.20,1642 Mr.Atwood,Mr.Jenney,Mr.Paddy,John Winslow,Manasseh Kempton,Thomas Clarke and John Cooke,Jur.,are appointed to make the rate for payment of the clerk and messengers wages. 5
At the same town meeting :"It is agreed upon that the Gov^{r} Mr Prence Mr Jenney Mr Paddy Mr Done John Winslowe and John Cooke or the major part of them shall dispose of lands for the town on munday come fortnight wch we will be second munday in October."

Sept.20,1642 "It is agreed upon by the genrall consent of the whole towne that a fortyfycation shalbe made about the ordinance and another peece mounted and that Gov^r Mr.Prence Mr.Atwood Mr Jenney and Mr Paddy shall agree wth workmen to have it donn speedily and to repaire the watch house and make a brick chimney to it. And afterwards to make a rate for all through-out the towneshippe." 5

At the same meeting:"It is agreed that Mr Jenney Manasseh Kempton and John Dunhame shall be added to the committee to conferr and conclude with the general Court about the war."

Sept.27 1642 At the Colony Court a week later:"This Court was occasioned by the Indians to provide forces against them for an offensive warr,and though all the inhits were warned,yet they appeared by their several deputies,as they had libertie to doe. For Plymouth Mr John Atwood,Mr.John Jenney,Mr.Wm.Paddy,Mr.John Done,John Cooke, Manasseh Kempton,John Dunhame" (then followed the deputies from other towns). and then "The Court being mett togeth er,and havinf intelligence of a generall conspiracy intended by the natives to cutt off all the English in this land,tooke the same into serious consideration,and duly waying such information wch they hadreceived, together wth the circumstances concuring there wth all,do adjudge it absolutely needful & requisite to make speedy preparation throughout the goverment for a defensive and offensive warr against them,as if they were presently to be sent forth.

"It is agreed and concluded,that Mr.Edward Wynslowe,Mr.Tymothy Hatherly & Captaine Myles Standish shalbe sent into the Bay & have power to agitate and conclude wth them for a present combination wth them in the present warrs,and to treat with them about a further combination or league,but not to conclude that wthout consent of the Court here;"etc,etc. 2

Nov.1,1642 Mr.John Jenney and Mr.Nathaniel Sowther were chosen to arbitrate between John Throckmorton and John Gilbert. Throckmorton is found in the right,and Gilbert is instructed to pay him (either by his own hand or with Mr.Jenney acting as his agent) the sum of 30 s in money,corne,beaver, or cattlel. 2

Mar.7,1643 Joseph Ramsden sued John Jenney for Ł 30 in an action of trespass. Ramsden is allowed 12s and the cost of the suit. 2

Apr.19,1643 In the town records of this date:"It is ordered that those that keepe two or three bulls to serve the cattell wthall shall have two cowes kept freely for each bull.
"The corne levyed for the Cow keeps psent use.." 5
A list of eighteen names follows,beginning with the Governor,who must supply 1 peck and a pottle, and including Mr.Jenney whose levy was "1 peck and half in biskitt",-his the only one to be paid in "biskitt."

May 29,1643 The list of "those that contributed to buy drum-heads" includes nineteen names,beginning with: Mr.Bradford,Mr.Prence,Mr.Jenney. Most,like Jenney gave 6d. Three men gave either 4d.or 2d. The townsmen were required to provide themselves with weapons, "viz muskett either wth snaphance (flintlock) or 5 matchlocks with match callivers (small guns or pistols) and carbines (light rifles) wch are allowed and also fowling peeces not above foure foot and a halfe long."

June 6 ,1643 "Whereas there is a suite depending this court betwixt Mr.John Jenney,complt,and Samuell Sterte-vant and Joseph Ramsden,deffnt,by the consent of both parties ,it is referred to be decided & fully ended 2 by the bench." The bench found for Mr.Ramsden.

August 1643 At this time there was taken,in the various colonies, a census of all males in age between 16 and 60 and able to bear arms. Plymouth had 146 such men. In the list were John Jenney,Sen.,Samuell Jenney,and John Jenney,Jur. This is practically all we have to guide us to the age of John Jenney,Senior. We know from this census that he was not born before 1583. Since he was married in 1614,he was very probably born a little later than 1583.

Sept.24,1643 "A Counsell of war for the Towne" was appointed, made up of The Govner Mr.Prence Mr Hopkins Mr Jenney Mr Paddy Nathl Sowther,and that it is agreed upon by the whole that there shalbe a watch kept in regard of the danger of the indians. That all the whole township shall joyne in keeping the watch at Plymouth And that when any cannot come to do his duty in the watch the Captaine of the watch or the Corporall shall put a sufficient man in his stead and he shall pay him and if he refuses to pay he shalbe distrayned for it. That there be six men and a corporal for one watch which is to continue xxiiii hours from sunn sett to sunn sett and he that comes not then to his watch and another must be put in his stead he shall pay him although he come himself. "It is agreed upon that there 5 shall be a watch house forthwith built of brick and that Mr.Grome will sell us the brick for xis p thousnad."

Oct.9,1643 On this date,fifteen days after the town meeting just described,a joint committee or council of War was organized,the General Court and the Town of Plymouth each naming five members of it.The Court named Governor Bradford (who was to be the President of the Council) and Edward Winslow, Thomas Prence,William Collier and Capt.Myles Standish. The town named the six it had chosen on September 24th, two of them duplicating the Colony's choices,and of course including John Jenney, This was,as far as we know,Mr.Jenney's last appearance in any public function. 44

Dec.28,1643 On this date John Jenney wrote his will. The date of his death has not been preserved,but it was before the following May 25th,for on that date the inventory of his estate was taken. Governor Bradford in a letter to Governor Winthrop of Massachusetts Bay,- undated but apparently written in the late winter or early spring of 1644,-said" Sundry have been sicke amongst us this winter,and some still are. God hath taken away Mr.Atwood and Mr.Jenney by death." 117

Following is a transcript of John Jenney's will:

" I John Jenney of New Plymouth in New England being sick and weake in body but through Gods special goodness in pfect memorie do think it meate to settle that estate the Lord in his mercy hath bestowed according as I conceive hee requireth at my hands. And therefore do ordaine this my last will and testament. And therefore haveing bequeathed my soule to God that gave it and my body to the earth whereof it is I do give unto my eldest sonne Samuell Jenney a double porcon of all the lands I stand possessed of being pformed next of all I give unto Sarah my loveing wyfe whom I ordaine my Executrix my Dwelling house and Mille adjacent together wth all the lands thereunto belonging, my will being that shee freely and fully enjoy it together wth all other my moveables goods and chattells so long as God shall be pleased to continue her life except as I shall after dispose of or she shall willingly and freely part wth to any our children according to my will and desire alsoe whereas Abigaile my eldest daughter had somewhat given her by her grand-mother and Henry Wood of Plymouth aforesaid is a suter to her in way of marriage my will is that if shee the said Abigaill will dwell one full yeare wth Mr.Charles Chauncey of Scittuate before her marriage (pveded he be willing to entertain her) that then my said daughter Abigaile have two of my cowes and my full consent to marry wth the said Henry Wood.And in case Mr Chauncey be against it then I would have her dwell wth Mris Winslow of Careswell the said terme of one years ffurther as I have given my eldest sonne Samuell a double porcon of all my lands whatsoever after the death of his said mother so also I give him a double porcon of my whole estate wth the rest of my children viz John Abigaill Sarah and Susann My will being that after the death of my said wife my house and mill and other my lands and goods be sold or valued to the utmost they are worth and that the estate be equally distributed amongst my said children Samuell John Abigail Sarah and Susan as followeth, Samuel to have a double pcon and the rest of them eich a single and equall porcon of the same Last of all I do ordaine my worthy frends Mr William Bradford no Governor of Plymouth and Mr Thomas Prence of the same the oveseers of this my last will and testament and do give eich of them a paire of gloves of five shillings price And in witness that this is my will I have hereuntoo set my hand and seele the xxviiith of December Anno Dm 1643.

John Jenney's widow lived on twelve years after his death,and for a woman no longer young took a keen interest in business affairs. She engaged in a number of land deals,and in at least one of them made an exceptionally good investment. Her handling of the mill left by her husband seems not to have been so satisfactory. In fact,neither her husband before her,nor their son Samuel after them,ran the mill the way that was acceptable to the people of Plymouth,-and so we read that on the twentieth of August, 1644,-a few months after John Jenney died,"Mrs Jenney,upon the psentment agst her pmiseth to mend the grinding at the mill and to keep the mortars cleane and bags of corne from spoyling and loosening." 2

On the second of October,1650,"Mis Sara Jennings complained against Robert Nash ,in an action of the case,to the damage of fifty pounds. The jury find for the plaintiff,and condem the goods attached in the hands of John Barnes of Plymouth,and allow her ten shillings damage and the charge of the suit. An execution was granted unto the said Mrs.Sara Jenings upon the goods of Robert Nash of Boston,in the hands of John Barnes of Plymouth,to satisfy unto her the sum of three pounds and tenshillings debt to be paid 2 in mony,and ten shillings damage,and the charges of the suit,which comes to 01 pounds,01 shillings.three pence.Whereof the said Nash was convict in course of law."

In a list that was made in March 1651 are the names of"those that have interest and properties in the townes land att Punkateesett,(Little Compton) over against Road Iland". The list contains seventy-four names,the seventy-third being "Mistres Jeney". Two other widows of first-comers,Mrs.Atwood and Mrs.Hicks,are also near the bottom of the list. 5

On December 1,1640,the fifty-eight Plymouth "Purchasers" (of whom,of course,John Jenney was one) had laid plans for acquiring 50 several graat tracts of land to the southward,one of them known then as "Acushena,Ponagansett and Coaxett,"later to be known as Dartmouth. The actual purchase was not made until several years after John's death,-and so it was that his widow Sarah concluded 51 the deal. That was on Nov.29,1652. By that time the number of those interested had shrunk to thirty-four. Each one of these owned one thirty-fourth of all of Dartmouth. The price paid was ;"Thirty yards of cloth,eight moose skins,fifteen axes,fifteen hoes,fifteen pairs of breeches,eight blankets,two iron kettles,one cloak,£ 8 in wampum,eight pairs of stockings,one iron pot,and ten shillings 79 in another commodite," presumable rum.

Sarah Jenney was party to al least one other land deal,for when on March 14,1656,her son Samuel sold two acres of land,he called it "mine as a legacy by my mother Mrs.Sarah Jenney late deceased by her purchase of leiftenant ffuller." 74

"A will apointed to bee recorded Aprill the 4th,1654,Mris Sarah Jenney of Plymouth being sicke and weake in body being otherwise by Gods goodness of pfect memory doeth think good to despose of som smale things that is my owne proper goods, leaving my husbands will to take place according to the true intent and meaning thereof.

I bequeath to my daughter Pope my bed and furniture thereunto belonging,one bolster,two pillows and pillowbeers,three blankets one old rugg one paire sheets,

Further I bequeath to my daughter Abigail Wood and to my 2 grandchild Sarah Wood for theire use as they have need excepting two of my petticoats which have not been worne which I give to my daughter Pope for her paines

Further I bequeath to my son Samuel Jeney and to my daughter Abigail Wood my mare to be equally divided between them;

Further I bequeath to my son Benjamin Bartlett all the cattle that is in the hands of Joseph Warren att the Eelriver

Further my will is that my sheepe bee kept together till my legacies bee paid and my will further is to give unto the Elder Mr.Cushman one ewe lamb and the bible which was my daughter Susannas further I bequeath to my loving friend goodwife Clarke one ewe lamb and also I give one ewe lamb to Thomas Southworth.

Witnesse — Sarah Jenney
Thomas Southworth — her X mark

At the general court held at Plymouth Mar 5,1655,Lieft. Thomas Southworth testified that the above will was left with him 2 by Mrs.Jenney

In August,1655,Mrs.Jenney added a codicil to her will:

"August the 18th Anno 1655

An addition to the late will left in the hands of Lieft.Southworth:

My will is that which is my owne since the death of my husband I give to my two daughters and the children of my son Samuel excepting what I give as followeth:one colt I give to my three daughters of my children,viz Sarah Wood,Susanna Pope and Sarah Jenney if she come hither to abide or ells not to have any pte of this colt or anything ells of my estate; moreover my will is that if my son Samuel take away his children that are now here with mee then my will is that none of them shall have anything on myne estate but it shall be reserved for the two boys if they doe well when they come of age. It: I give to Benjamin Bartlett onley the starred cow which is att Thomas Popes recalling whatsoever ells mencioned in my former will; also I give unto my daughter Sarah Pope the bed I now lye on and the two pillows and three blankets and rugg and also two petticoats one being turkey moheire confirming whatsoever ells is in my former will. In witness whereof I have put my hand and seal the day and yeare above written and I give unto Leift.Southworth one ewe lamb.

In the presence of
William Bradford — Sarah Jenney
Alice Bradford X her marke — her X marke

And I desire my loveing ffriends Capt.Standish,Elder Cushman,Thomas Clarke and Thomas Pope to bee overseers of this my will. "

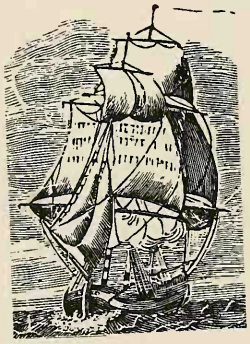
John and Sarah (Carey) Jenney had six children:

2 i Samuel b.ca.1617 Leyden;m.1.Susanna Wood;m.2.Ann Lettice
ii. a child b.ca.1618,buried June 16,1618 St.Peter's Yard. in Leyden,some say she was named Ann
3 iii Abiagil b.ca.1620;m.Henry Wood
4. iv. Sarah b.at sea July 1623;m.Thomas Pope
v. John b.ca.1624;died defore 1654.
vi. Susanna b.ca.1626;d.Mar.23,1654;m.Benjamin Bartlett,died without issue.



THE SECOND GENERATION :Samuel Jenney

From the time of the family's arrival in America until his death,John (1) Jenney had one home town,-Plymouth. Not so his son Samuel,who was a freeman and proprietor in several towns.

From about the time of his father's death,when he was approximately twenty-eight years old and unmarried,Samuel remained in Plymouth,to which town he had been brought as a child of some seven years. About 1643 a great migration out of Plymouth set in "by reason of the straightness and barrenness of the place." and Samuel Jenney was among the many who migrated. He went to Portsmouth,Rhode Island,and married Susanna Wood,daughter of John and Margaret (Carter) Wood,and became a freeman of that town in 1648. He probably lived in Portsmouth about twelve years.

Upon his mother's death early in 1656,Samuel returned to Plymouth to take care of the mill and of his now motherless children who had been cared for by their grandmother. He remained in Plymouth about six years,marrying there a second wife,Ann Leitice.In 1662, having taken on partners to run the mill,he and his family removed to the huge tract of land his mother had bought,which was still unorganized,but would soon be incorporated and named Dartmouth. Samuel Jenney was the first town officer that Acushnet (his part of Dartmouth) ever had,and he was one of the first seven men to settle in any part of Dartmouth.

52

Thirteen years after the Jenneys settled in Dartmouth,King Philip's War broke out and in July 1675 Dartmouth was completely devastated. It is said that not a house of a white man was left standing, except for the outlying garrison houses. Though unable to save their property,most of the Dartmouth folks were able to save their lives since they had access to the coast,so that only four of their number were slain. Three of the four were children of Thomas Pope,Samuel's brother-in-law,and near neighbor.

54

The Jenneys took refuge in Plymouth. Their economic plight during the next few years can be understood only by understanding the economic plight of the whole colony.

Baylies says,"The Commissioners of the United Colonies represent the disbursements of Plymouth during this war at more that Ł 100,000 ,-an incredible sum ! The government were frequently without funds or men,and the war was actually carried on by the towns,both men and money being provided by them." When the war closed, Plymouth Colony was more than generous to those who had fought in it,giving soldiers land grants amounting to Ł 1000,and "for the present help of those whose condition calls for immediate help instead of payment in land" she assessed the towns for another Ł 1000, "And for each soldier of hers that had been maimed in the war,there was not only a sum of money,but also a lucrative liquor license and an annual pension for life.

53

Little wonder that at the close of the war Plymouth Colony found itself saddled with a debt of Ł 27,000 and perhaps little wonder,too,that when she tried to raise this money by taxing the several towns,the towns refused to comply; so that there was an impasse,-an impasse never resolved until Plymouth Colony in 1691 lost her identity as a colony and became merged with Massachusetts Bay.

49

It was into such a desparate economic situation that Samuel Jenney's family came as refugees in 1675,-and though he had immense land holdings in Dartmouth ,and in Plymouth owned at least two plots of land and a house,-the latter probably in rentor's or partner's hands,-and had a partnership in the mill,so acute was his need after four years of such life that the town,because of his destitute condition,gave him permission to live in the new watch-house. 5

It was probably soon after this that Samuel returned to Dartmouth and rebuilt his house. Dartmouth was his home from then until his death in 1692.

We have given this rough sketch of Samuel Jenney's life in order to show it in its general outlines. We will now give item by item the mention we have found of him in the old records,out of which the outline was drawn:

May 22 1627 It is under this date that Samuel Jenney's name appears for the first time in any American record. This was the great division of cattle,and Samuel was then probably eleven years old.

Jan.6,1634 "Samuel Jenney,the sonne of J$_o$hn Jenney,by the consent of said John,hath bound himselfe apprentise to Kanelm Wynslowe,of Plymouth,Joyner,for the full terme of four years,during which time the said Samuell shall doe faithfull service,as becometh an apprentise,to the sd Kanelm. Also,the said Kanelm shall exercise the said Samuel in the joyners ocupacion,and shall doe his best to instruct him in his said trade,and at the end of his tyme shall double apparell the said Samuel. But if the said Kanelm shall remove his dwelling from Plymouth,or the liberties thereof, then this cov^t shall be void." 2

This recods of Samuel's apprenticeship is practically all we have as a basis for estimating his age. We judge his apprenticeship was to end when he reached the age of twenty-one,as seems customary. If so,Samuel was born about 1617.

June 7,1637 On this date Plymouth Colony called for volunteers to go against the Pequot Indians,who had been causing great alarm. Forty men of Plymouth responded. In the list of volunteers "Souldiers that willingly offer themselves to goe upon the sd service with Mr.Prince & the Lieften^t "the first four names are:Thomas Clark,Richard Church,George Soule and Samuel Jenney. However,the sudden cessation of the war made it unnecessary for the volunteers to go. 2

Jan 4 1642On this date Samuel Jenney joined with his father and Governor Bradford and ten other men in furnishing funds for building the ship described on page 9 of this manuscript. Like his father and the Governor, Samuel owned one-sixteenth of the vessel. Samuel must have been doing very well to engage in an enterprise like that when only four years out of his apprentice-ship. 2

August 1643 Samuel Jenneys name,like those of his father and younger brother,John,is on the list of 146 men of Plymouth who were between 16 and 60 and able to bear arms.

Mar.5 1644 "Concerning the difference betwixt James Skiffe & Samuel Jenney for the sayle,it is ordered by the court that the said Samuel Jenney shall cause the said sayle to be brought speedily to the towne, and that Mr.Prence,for the said Samuel Jenney, and George Watson,for the said James Skiffe,shall view and appraise the same,and to allow what damage shall be thought just and equall betwixt them;and that the said James Skiffe shall have the said sayle & the damage to deliver to Robt Waterman with the boat hee hath sold him." 2

June 5,1644 "Samuel Jenney for striking of Thomas Dunhame is fyned iiijs iiijd."
"Thomas Dunhame for challenging Samuel Jenney to 2 to fight with him,and came to his bedside to do it, etc,is fyned xs."

Also on this date the inventory of the estate of Samuel's father,John Jenney,was exhibited;among the several to whom the estate was owing money was Samuel Jenney,to whom five pounds was due. 74

Mar.21,1647 On this date Nathaniel Morton bought land in "Weelingsla"(in Plymouth) described as bounded 1 on the north by Governor Bradford & on the south by the land of Samuel Jenney. Samuel had by this time been living three or four years in Rhode Island.

July 10,1648 Samuel Jenney,his father-in-law-and fifteen others were listed as Freemen of Portsmouth. These men were to serve as a committee for the trial of the general officers. 8

Samuel had married Susanna Wood,daughter of John Wood of Portsmouth and Margaret(Carter) Wood.

April 1655 John Wood's estate makes no mention of Samuel Jenney,but an inventory of his widow's goods, taken at her request in April of 1655,mentions him:

"Being requested by the widow of John Woods in Portsmouth and the sd Woods children,John Woods, Thomas and William,to take an inventory of his goods the sons before named choose their mother,the last wife of their father John Woods,as administratrix. She hath given unto his daughter Manchester a "ewe Gotte" and to his son in law Samuel Jennings an ewe kid...: The daughter Samuel married must have been by John's first wife,although he had a daughter by his second wife of the same name. The older Susanna had very likely married,moved away, possibly even died,before the younger was born. Samuel established his family in Plymouth,-quite possibly at his mother's home,-and he maintained civic and business headquarters in Portsmouth. This is easily understood if we remember that the early generations of Jenneys were much more interested in maritime trade and coastal shipping than in farming. Samuel probably plied his little boats all along the coast,stopping at many towns,and being at home in both Portsmouth and in Plymouth.

July 8,1650 Sam.Jene was chosen by Portsmouth Town Court to serve on the jury on July 16. 8

March 4,1651 John Bower,Martha Sherive and Susanna Jenney witnessed the oral will of Webb Audey in Plymouth. 74
We judge from the following article that Samuel's wife,Susanna,had been caring for Webb Audey in his sickness. Thomas and Martha Sherive were later of Portsmouth,where Martha married Thomas Hazard in 1675. 116

May 4,1652 Webb Audey's will was presented for probate."A list of the charges of Webb Audey's buriall in the severall particulars:

Mar 23,1654 Susanna Jenney died at Plymouth. We think this was Samuel's wife,who is known to have died at about this time,although there is confusion,because Samuel's sister,Susanna (Jenney) Bartlett also died at about the same time.
Dying,Susanna (Wood)Jenney gave her infant daughter into the care of Thomas Clark of Plymouth, an act which greatly offended Samuel's mother,and in time led to a law suit which will be discussed among the events of 1659.

1655 The Role of Freemen of Rhode Island was taken this year,and we find Samuel Jenney still among the seventy-one names. 27

March 14,1656 Early in 1656 Samuel's mother died. He evidently returned to Plymouth at once to look after the two boys,Job and John,who had been with their grandmother and to take charge of the mill,which had also been under his mother's supervision. He at once sold some of his newly inherited land. The deed,written at Plymouth,shows that he still thought of himself as of Rhode Island. The land at Strawberry Hill was thus sold to Henry Wood,Samuel's brother-in-law. 74

June 5 ,1656 On this date Thomas Pope and Samuel Jenney were sued by John Barnes "to the damage of twenty pounds, for unjust molestation in the possession of his land on the west side of six mile brook,betwixt Plymouth and Namasket." The jury found for the plaintiff, 2 pounds damage,and the cost of the suit,which was:

It to the jury	6	06
It to the clarke	3	00
It to the mashell	0	06
It to two witnesses	3	00
It for serving the warrant	0	06

1656 or 1657 It must have been at about this date that Samuel married his second wife,Ann Lettice of Plymouth. Her children Susanna,Samuel,Elizabeth,Ruth,Lettice, and Mark were born between Nov.22,1657 and about 1669.

June 3,1657 On this date Samuell Jenney,Thomas Morton and Sargeant Shaw were appointed surveyors of highways for Plymouth. 2

Jan.3,1658 On this date there was a triple land deal: Henry Wood sold to James Cole Jr.,one-fourth of a tract of 150 acres once belonging to John Jenney,dec'd, known as "Lakenham:"on the same day Samuel Jenney "Planter" sold one half of the above tract to Joseph Ramsden,who,on the same day,sold one half of this to John Rickard. Again on the same day, and evidently in payment for the land deeded to him by Samuel Jenney ,Joseph Ramsden made over to Samuel "all his share of land in Plymouth at Little Compton". This land was probably contiguous to land already owned there by Samuel Jenney. His mother and Joseph Ramsden had drawn Lot 11,and Samuel had inherited her half,and now came into possession of the other half. 1

Jan.30,1658 Samuel Jenney still owned land in Portsmouth at this time;we know from a deed of Thomas Hazard of Portsmouth,by which he conveyed to Stephen Wilcox as a dowry for his daughter Hannah two parcels of land,described as "...bounded on the south and north by land of Samuel Gine;on the east by the common...." 8

Feb.13,1659 Andrew Ringe of Plymouth sold William Clark land lying between " a pcell of marsh which was sometimes the marsh of mistris Jenings on one side and a meadow now in the possession of George Soule of the other." and stated that "the main creek that runs up to the beach is in the bounds of said marsh betwixt Samuell Jenings and myself." 74

Oct.3,1659 Ever since his first wife had died,probably in the spring of 1654,Samuel's daughter Sarah and the legacy left her by her mother had been in the keeping of Thomas Clark,as had been directed in her mother's will. But on the petition of Samuel Jenney,the court delivered his child to him,but allowed the property 56 to remain in the custody of Mr.Clark 2

June 3,1662 It was on March 7,1752 that Samuel Jenney's mother, the widow Sarah Jenney,joined in with thirty-three of her companions in buying the huge tract of land that then comprised "Acushena,Ponagansett and Coaksett", and that on June 8,1664 would be incorporated into a town called Dartmouth,-a tract that included what are now all of New Bedford,Fairhaven,Westport,Acushnet, and the several Dartmouths. Of this huge tract,widow Jenney owned one-thirty-fourth,and one half of this she passed on to her son Samuel,she herself dying several years before any attempt was made to settle there.

Three men settled there in 1660,and 1661,seven were there in 1662: Shaw,Hathaway,Cuthbert,Spooner,Jenney, Russell and Earle were the surnames of these pioneers. Jenney's great holdings were east of the Acushnet River in what is now Fairhaven and the village of Acushnet. Acushnet Library stands now on what was Jenney ground, and the ancient burying ground near it. It was into this Acushena region that Samuel Jenney brought his family in 1662,and on the third of June of that year he was appointed constable for Acushenah by Plymouth Court,being the first town officer ever appointed for any part of Dartmouth,which,indeed,was not organized as a township for another two years. 2

Feb.7,1665 During the ten years since the death of Samuel's mother,a small matter in the settling of her estate had been causing trouble. All that we know of it,and all that we know of the death of Samuel's daughter, Sarah,is to be found in the following three court items:

(1) "The elder Thomas Cushman ,Thomas Clark,and Thomas Pope,the overseers of the estate of Mistress Sarah Jenings,complaineth against Mr.Southworth,treasurer,in an action of trespass upon the case,for illegal disposition of a mare and her increase,after that it was claimed to belong to the estate of the heirs of the said Sarah Jenings. The jury finds for the defendant" Mar.5,1662 2

(2) The case was evidently appealed,for a year later we find this item: "In answer unto a petition prefered to the court by Mr.Thomas Cushman,Thomas Clark and Thomas Pope,the overseers of the estate of Mistress Sarah Jeney, deceased,in reference to a mare disposed of by the treasurer in the behalf of the countrey,the court have allowed them,in reference unto the children of the said mistris Jeney,the first horse beast,be it horse or mare,that shall be found to belong unto the countrey." June 1,1663

(3) Then on Feb.7,1665 "In answer to the desire and motion of Henery Wood and Thomas Pope,that for as much as it does appear by the last will and testament of Mistris Sarah Jenney,deceased,that did at her death give and bequeath unto the eldest daughters of Samuell Jenney Henry Wood and Thomas Pope,a mare colt,and that Sarah, the eldest daughter of Samuell Jenney is deceased before shee came of age,that therefore the survivors of the said daughters might have the part of the deceased, the court,taking notice of the terms of the will,&c., adjudged it the right of the survivors,viz.Sarah Wood, and Susanna Pope; but that foreasmuch as Samuel Jenney was not present,and that his plea about it hath not been heard,it was refered to the next general court to bee holden in March,next,att which time the said Samuell Jenney is to bee present,and to make his plea, if hee hath any thinge to speak in the case."

July 24 1665 On this day Samuel Jenney of Dartmouth for 3 5s sold to James Cole Jr.,of Plymouth "all that my portion of meddow lying and being att Lakenham in the township of Plymouth aforesaid att the hunting house brooke abuting against Samuell Hickes his meaddow there." On the same day "Anna the wife of the said Samuell Jenney gave her free consent,signing by her mark. Samuel also signed, as always,by his. We give an imitation of both 1

Samuel's mark Anna's mark

Nov.24, 1665 Samuel Jenney was deeded 25 acres of land in Dartmouth, by John Barnes,land that came from the original share of William Palmer, 9

Mar.16,1668 When Samuel Jenney went to Dartmouth to live,he took on partners to run the mill for him,and on this date it was ordered that "notice be given to those that are owners of the mill That the Towne Requires them either by a fflood gate or otherwise to take course that the herrings or alewives may have libertie to goe up to spawn att the season thereof according to a former agreement and ingagement and in case they shall refuse or neglect soe to do that then the Towne will take course that it shall be done." 5

1674 In 1673 Thomas Pope,Samuel Jenney's brother-in-law, tried to get land on Saconnet Neck (Little Compton),but failed to do so,and it was granted that he might look out for some other place "Undisposed of" for his own.Now,by what arrangement Pope got one-half share in Dartmouth from the widow Jenney's early purchase we do not know; whether by purchase from Samuel Jenney,or by mediation of the town,but it is certain that his half share in Dartmouth east of the Acushnet River was originally in the Jenney purchase. The Dartmouth Proprietors Records state this. And we know that Pope's land lay close to Samuel Jenney's. Pope removed to Dartmouth about 1674. 74

July 1675 On the twentieth of June 1675 King Philip's War broke out,and early in July,Dartmouth,a frontier town and badly exposed,was completely devastated. Tradition has it that with the exception of the outlying garrison houses,every white man's dwelling was destroyed. Thomas Pope's son John,twenty-two years old,and his daughter Susanna,with her husband Jacob Mitchell were all killed while fleeing on horseback. Samuel Jenney took his family to Plymouth for refuge,and during the next four or five years his interests were identified with those of that town. 54

Dec.18,1675 When Jacob Cooke's inventory was taken at Plymouth on this date,his estate was shown owing Samuel Jenney four shillings. 2

Mar 6, 1677 Samuel Jenings was on the jury that tried three Indians for the murder of John Knowles,John Tisdale Sr.,and Sameull Attkins. "The verdict of the jury followeth concerning Timothy Jacked,alias Canjunke,and Nassamaquate,-wee find they are very suspicious of the murder charge on them,and in reference unto Pompacanshe,we find nothing against him. There not appearing further evidence against them to cleare up the case, the centance of the Court was that the two former were to be sent out of the country speedily,and the other likewise,as hee is a prisoner of warr." 2

Mar.5,1678 "Samuel Jenney,for useing railing and reviling speeches to several psons att the mill att Plymouth,fined five shillings." 2
Also on the same date,"In regard of the defect of a Constable in the towne of Dartmouth,this court doth order and authorize John Cooke,John Russell,and Lieft. Smith,they or any two of them,in his majesties name, to call upon theire towne to come together to make such rates as are requisite for the defraying of such dues as are due and owing from their town,and particularly a debt due to Simon Cooper for the cure of William Die,and for the charge of the journeys to Plymouth,for the demanding of the said debt,which is sixteen pounds,to be payed in silver money,to be payed him or his declared order,Major Bradford; as also the sum of forty shillings to Jonathan Delano,and to Thomas Taber 2 pounds 10 shillings,and to William Spooner two pounds and ten shillings,and to Samuel Jenney 12;to John Cornwell 2 pounds 10,to Philip Taber 2 pounds 10, to Eliezer Smith five shillings. These summs,excepting that due to Simon Cooper,to be payed in marchantable pay: at money price; they are to return a true account of their doeings respecting the promises unto the June Court next,to be holden at Plymouth." 2

March 8,1679 Samuel Jenney was on a coroner's jury held this date to determine the cause of death of Thomas Lucase of Plymouth. It was found that "hee being very ancient and decriped in his limbs,and it being very cold,and having drunk some drink,gott a violent fall into a ditch,in a very dangerous place,could not recover himself,but bruised his body,and lying all night in the cold,soe he came to his end." 2

April 7,1679 We have shown the critical economic condition that existed,for the government and people alike,throughout Plymouth Colony in the years following King Philip's War. It would seem that,-as after many other wars,- an acute housing shortage accompanied the general depression. The Indians had been so completely worsted however,that there was no longer fear of attacks from them,and everywhere watch towers and garrison houses were being abandoned or converted to other uses.and it was under such circumstances that "The town Graunted unto Samuell Jenney and his family the watchhouse upon the fortt hill in respect for his destitute condition to be for a house for him to dwell in and not to be sold or estranged for any other use,and hath liberty to remove it to any place for the end aforesaid when he pleaseth." 5

This was the new watchhouse,not built until 1676,and so doubtless as yet scarcely used at all. Samuel and Ann surely never lived there for long,-may not have lived in it at all,but since it is the only house ever assigned for a residence of early Jenneys,of which a description has come down to us,we give such description with relish: "On February 19,1676 the town of Plymouth agreed with Nathaniell Southworth to build the said watch-house which is to be sixteen foot in length and 12 foot in breadth and eight foot studd to be walled with board,and to have 2 ffloors the upper flor to be six foot above the lower ffloors,and he is to batten the walls and to make a smale pair of windows below to make 2 gables to the Roofe or each syde of one,to cover the roof with shingle,and to build a chimney in the said house,and to do all the worke thereunto; only the frame is to be nrought to the place att the towne's charge,and for the said work hee is to be paid in money or other pay equivalent." Not too bad for a makeshift residence !

May 23,1681 We do not know when Samuel Jenney returned to Dartmouth. Others had been gradually getting rebuilt and settled, since mid year 1678. Meantime,things at the mill,never happy,were becoming less so. "Att a town meeting held at Plymouth the twenty-third day of May 1681 It was ordered by the Towne in reference to the corn mill that Mr.Edward Gray,Leift.Norton and William Clark are authorized to treat with Samel Jenney and the rest of the partners about buying the mill of him,and to come to a price with him,if he be willing to sell it, and in case hee refuse to sell it,that they then signify to him that they do intend to build another mill,and the Town do alsoe authorize them the said Edward Gray Lieft. Morton and William Clark to put things in such a posture as that theire may be another mill built in case Samuell Jenney refuse to sell his." 5

It would seem that,by inclusion of Samuel's name in the foregoing complaint,the people of Plymouth did not know that he had already sold out all of his shares and interests in the mill. On October 13,1680,Samuel Jenney for 25 sold to Charles Stockbridge "all that my one half of a grist mill or corne mill " lying on the Town Brook;and with it one half of the three acres of land that went with the mill . 1

Oct.27,1685 On this date six of the proprietors of Dartmouth brought suit against the other sixty-four proprietors including Samuel Jenney,on the grounds that they were preventing a division of the town's common lands. The case was non-suited. 1

Nov.18,1685 Samuel Jenney Sr.,for love,deeded to his son Samuel "one third part of all my rights and privaledges in all my halfe share of lands & meadows in Dartmouth,viz.all my housing & lands I now live upon,& one acre & halfe of meadow in Clarks Neck,& halfe my lands in Skonticutt neck and sixty acres,over & above his one-third part which I give to my sd son Samuel Jenney;equally to be taken out of the other two thirds part of my halfe share of land (reserving to myself & to his mother my wife all the above mentioned premises granted to my son Samuel during the terme of our natural lives & the longest liver of us." 1

Nov.23,1685 Using the same phraseology,Samuel Jenney on this date executed deeds to his son Lettice and to his son Mark,(the three sons of his second wife being the chief beneficiaries of the deeds.. John and Job were sons of the first wife). To Lettice he deeded one third of his half share in Dartmouth,except that Lettice was to give to his brother Samuel 30 acres of this and to his brother John,20 acres, He also deeded to Lettice "all my land that is now laid out at Naskatucket Brook being along the west side of the brook and 2 acres of meadow adjoining said land,and 4 acres of meadow on the east side of the brook,and half of my land in Sconticut Neck." To his son Mark he deeded one third of his share in Dartmouth,except Mark must give out of his part 30 acres to brother Samuel and 20 acres to his half-brother, Job. In addition he deeded to Mark all his land "Laid out on the west side of the Acushnet River and three acres of meadow in Clark's Neck,and 3 acres of meadow not yet laid out." All of these lands, given to all five of the sons,were to remain in the hands of Samuel and Ann as long as either of them lived. In these deeds the difference between the sons of the first wife and the sons of the second is very noticable.

The Jenney Grist Mill,built in 1970 by David DeLory,based on old records of typical mills of the Pilgrim era. It stands on Town Brook,very near where John Jenney's original mill stood from 1637 to 1847.

Nov.25 1685 On this date Samuel Jenney wrote his will,which was as follows:

" In ye name of God Amen. The twenty-fifth day of November one thousand six hundred eighty and five. I Samuel Jenney sen^{r} of Dartmouth in the Colony of New Plymouth in New England in America,yeoman being weak in body but of sound and perfect memory praysed be to God for the same,and knowing the uncertainty of this life here on earth and desiring to settle things in order,doe make this my last will and testament in manner and forme following.

This will was proved on April 16,1692,six and a half years after it was written. 6

May 24, 1686 Samuel Jene,Sr.,John Jenney,Lettice Jeney,and Samuel Jeney Jr.were among the 45 men who took the oath of fidelity in Dartmouth on this date. 10

Nov.12 1688 On this date Samuel Jenney Sr.,of Dartmouth for love deeded to Nathaniel Jackson,who two years before had married Samuel's daughter Ruth,a houselot in Plymouth,lying on the south side of Summer Street between that street and the Town Brook and just west of the three lots the first 1
John Jenney had acquired by 1639,and which Samuel still owns. This is the last transaction we have found recorded under Samuel's name. He was now about seventy-two years old. 47

April 12, 1692 We do not know the exact day of Samuel's death, but it was doubtless shortly before this ,the date of the taking of the inventory of his estate,which is recorded in the oldest book of will at Plymouth:

April 16 1692 Samuel Jenney's will was proved 6
May 20 1697 On this date widow Anne Jenney sold to Nathaniel Thomas the tract of about one acre on the south side of Summer Street comprising three house lots acquired by John (1) Jenney in and before 1693. The boundries are given as: North by the street leading down to the grist mill, south by the town brook, west by the lot 47
"sold" to Nathaniel Jackson and on which the Jackson house stood. When later, the "house lot or garden spot in Plymouth that I bought of widow Genne" was sold by Mr. Thomas in March 10, 1710, we have the last reference to the life of Ann Jenney. Her death is recorded in Plymouth Church recorde as being July 2/3, 1687, which is ten years before the above transaction.

3 ABIGAIL [2] JENNEY (John [1]) was born in Leyden,Holland,came with her parents in the Little James in 1623,and was living as late as 1673 when she was mentioned in the will of her son,John Wood. She married April 25,1644, (in spite of her father's wishes,as expressed in his will) Henry Wood,an early resident of Plymouth,who died before September 30,1670,when an inventory of his estate was taken.

Henry Wood was listed as a proprietor of Plymouth on September 16,1641,when he bought from John Dunham a house and lands in Plymouth. Soon after his marriage he removed to Yarmouth,Mass.,where his daughter Sarah and his son Samuel were born;but by 1649 he had returned to Plymouth where the other children were born,and about 1655 was residing in Middleborough,Mass. He was not listed among the Twenty-Six purchasers of Middleborough,but received the share of land that had been set out to John Shaw,and it is said that a portion of this land remained in the possession of his family until the twentieth century.

Admitted a freeman in 1648,he was juror on many cases, and a member of the Grand Inquest in 1648,1656,1659 and 1668. In 1655 and 1659 he was a surveyor of highways in Plymouth and was one of the complaintants to the General Court against the rates which had been established in Plymouth.

On Oct.29,1670,his son Samuel and son-in-law John Nelson,with the widow Abigail,were appointed to administer his estate.

4 SARAH [2] JENNEY (John[1]) born on board the Little James, a month before her parents landed in Plymouth,Mass., therefore in late July,1623. She married in Plymouth May 29,1646,as his second wife,Thomas Pope,born in England about 1608,died in Dartmouth in October,1683. Sarah died before July 19,1783,probably in Dartmouth. 74

Thomas Pope sailed from Plymouth,England March 20,1629 on the Mary and John,and became an early settler of Plymouth Colony. He married first,in Plymouth July 28,1637,Ann Fallowell,daughter of Gabriel and Ann Fallowell,and had by her one daughter,Hannah,who married Joseph Bartlett. Thomas Pope married secondly Sarah Jenney,and resided in Dartmouth after 1674.

In Plymouth Town Records we find that Thomas Pope was taxed in January,1632;on Oct.6,1636 he was granted five acres "at the fishing point";on June 7,1637 his name appeared on a list of persons who volunteered to go on an expedition under "Mr.Prence" against the Pequot Indians;in 1640 he sold his land at the "fishing point" and had a grant of five acres "of meadowing in South Meadow";he served on juries,was chosen constable,surveyor of highways,and held other town offices;at one period he was in Yarmouth,and later was interested in land in Little Compton,R.I. Thomas Pope took the freeman's oath in 1668.

In the early part of July,1675,his son John Pope, a young man of twenty-two,and his daughter Susanna with her husband,Ensign Jacob Mitchell,were all killed by a party of Indians,"early in the morning as they fled on horseback to the garrison whither the Mitchell children had been sent the afternoon before." The settlement of Dartmouth was a scattered one,and for better 115 security and defense against the Indians,a fort or garrison house had been built on the east side of the Acushnet River,-the remains of which were visable until almost 1900.

Thomas Pope left a will dated July 19,1683;his homestead farm contained one hundred and seventy- two acres,and contained the larger part of the present town of Fairhaven. 80

5 JOHN [3] JENNEY (Samuel[2],John[1]),born in Plymouth Colony about 1647,died in Dartmouth,Mass.,April 10,1727,aged seventy-nine. He married first about 1669,Margaret Hicks,dau.of Samuel and Lydia (Doane)Hicks. She died between 1689 and 1699. He married secondly,before Nov.1699,Phebe (Watson) Shaw,dau.of George and Phebe(Hicks) Watson and widow of Sgt.James Shaw. 118 119

John Jenney lived in Plymouth for a few years and by 1672 was a resident of Dartmouth,where his eldest child was born that year. He probably was the John Jenney who bought land there in 1700,and perhaps the John Jenney, cooper,who purchased land there in 1714. It is even possible that he,-like his father and grandfather,-in his early life led a maritime existance,and lived in some other town than Dartmouth. A John Jennings took the oath of allegiance in Boston in 1678 and was in Jamaica in 1672 making some sort of a deal.

John Jenney was a surveyor of highways in Dartmouth in 1692,1694,1695,1696 and 1704-5;he served as constable in 1698,was a member of the grand jury in 1700,and acted as fence viewer in 1708,1711,1713-1714.

In March,1714,he assured himself a place in Acushnet's memory when he gave an acre of land to the church for a burying ground. This old cemetery is still there,with dates nearly back to the time of Queen Ann. Thirty years after he donated it,a church was finally built upon it,the first in Dartmouth.

John Jenney drew his will Mar.21,1727,in which he describes himself as husbandman. He mentions his son,John, grandson Job,the children of his son Samuel,late deceased, grandson Hix Jenney,daughter Sarah Sherman,daughter Mehitable Gifford,daughter Lydia Benson and her son,John Allen, and daughter-in-law Mary Sherman,granddaughters Lidia Babcock,Hannah Jenney and Mary Jenney

Children,born in Dartmouth,all by first wife:

i. Samuel b.Feb.4,1670 d.y.
11 ii. Sarah b.May.21,1672;m.Daniel Sherman 12 iii. Mehitable b.Sept.26,1673;m.Gideon Gifford
iv. Elizabeth b.Feb.5,1676;m.John Esland,and died Apr.18, 1702
13 v. Samuel b.Feb.4,1678;m.perhaps Mary Gifford
14 vi. Lydia b.Mar.6,1682;m.1....Allen,m.2.Joseph Benson 15 vii. John b.Apr.18,1684;m.Abigail Pope viii. a child by second wife died in infancy.

6 SAMUEL [3] JENNEY (Samuel[2],John[1]) born in Plymouth,Mass., July 3,1659.died in Dartmouth,Mass.,Apr.3,1718. His wife's name was Hannah,perhaps Harlow,dau.of William and Mary (Shelley)Harlow.

In an old Bible,now in the possession of the Masons, and on display in Washington,D.C.,there appears this entry: "Father Samuel Jenney deceast April ye 3rd,1716 in the 58 year of age" also "Our Mother,Hannah Jenney deceast Sept. 2,1749,80 years of age." This old Bible was owned by Stephen West,who married Susannah,daughter of Samuel and Hannah Jenney. Probably the date is not correct,for the Dartmouth vital records give the date of Samuel's death as April 2,1718.

Children:

16 i. Susanna b.Apr.3,1687;m.Stephen West Jr.
17 ii. Hannah b.ca.1689; m.Samuel Peckham

7 ELIZABETH [3] JENNEY (Samuel[2],John[1],)born in Plymouth,Mass., Dec.5,1660,died in Plympton,Mass.,Feb.28,1754,aged ninety-three years,two months and twenty-three days. She married in Plymouth Apr.27,1681,George Bonham, born there in 1656 and died in Plympton Apr.27,1748 son of George and Sarah (Morton) Bonham, 32 64 47

George Bonham testified about the lands of Capt. Thomas Southworth May 22,1745,"in the ninetieth year of his age."

The Bonhams lived in that part of Plymouth that was established as Plympton in 1707,Carver being established from Plympton in 1790. He,with his wife and children,is buried in the old graveyard that is now in the center of Carver. He left no will and disposed of most of his estate by deeds made during his lifetime.

8 LETTICE [3] JENNEY (Samuel[2],John[1]),born in Plymouth Colony about 1662,died in Dartmouth,Mass.,between Jan.24,1731 and Mar.19,1734. He married before 1696,Desire Blackwell,born in Sandwich,Mass.,Dec.20,1678,died in Dartmouth Jan.2,1773,aged ninety-four years,daughter of John and Sarah (Warren) Blackwell,a Mayflower line. 88

Lettice Jenney took the oath of Freeman at Dartmouth Mar.24,1686,and was one of the original proprietors of that town,being named in the confirmatory deed made by Governor Bradford. He was called yeoman in the old records and owned a homestead ,which is now in the town of Fairhaven,part of which has been occupied for many years by his descendants. 52

He made his will Jan.24,1731/2,which wss proved Mar.19,1734. In this document his name appears as "Letes Jenne" of Dartmouth,yeoman,being under infirmity of body, etc.,The will is a long one in which he gives his eldest son,Cornelius,the part of the homestead that said son lived in,also the house standing on the Nasketucket Brook;to son Ignatius he gave the part of the homestead farm already occupied by him;to Caleb the southwest part of the homestead farm where he dwelt,the north part of Cornelius share; to Nathaniel fifty-one acres,to son-in-law Jeduthan Spooner,£5;to daughter Sarah,wife of Simpson Spooner,£5, to daughter Reliance,wife of Thomas Pope,£20,to daughter Mary,wife of Thomas West,£- 6, to granddaughter Elizabeth,when twenty-one,Ł 20,5s.;to granddaughter Parnell,when of the same age,Ł 10,5s;to granddaughter Ruth Spooner,when of age,Ł10,5s;and he appointed his wife Desire to act as executrix. Mar.17, 1733/4 the son,Cornelius,gave the bonds as administrator of his father,Lettice Jenney. The inventory amounted to Ł 2062.

The widow was buried in the Acushnet Cemetery : "In memory of Mrs.Desire Jenne widow of Mr.Lettice Jenne,she died Jan.22,1773 in the 95th year of her age".

There is no inscription to the memory of Lettice, although he is probably buried in the same graveyard, the original land for which was given by his brother,John. (An old copy of Lettice's will is signed"Lettice Z.Jenney")

10 MARK [3] JENNEY (Samuel[2],John[1]),born in Plymouth Colony,about 1666, died in Dartmouth,Mass.,between Apr.28,1739 and Aug.19, 1740. He married,perhaps in Rochester,Mass.,about 1700, Elizabeth Barlow,born there Aug.22,1684,living,probably in Dartmouth,Mar.14,1760,daughter of Aaron and Beulah(Wing)Barlow.

When Aaron Barlow wrote his will in 1713,he gave his daughter Elizabeth "wife of Mark Ginnins" a house and 100 acres of land besides other property. Mark Ginnins was an executor.

Mark Jenney settled in Dartmouth and was one of the original proprietors there, being named in the deed from Bradford in Nov. 1694. There are but few references to Mark Jenney in Dartmouth records,-however he served on a jury in 1695/6, and in the same year earned 30 shillings working for the town. In 1699 he was elected a constable, and in 1713/4 was again on a jury. 21 22

In 1694 he received land in the original purchase, in 1713 he sold nine acres of this land to Christopher Gifford. In 1720 Mark bought thirteen acres, and in 1737 sold land, his wife, Elizabeth, signing and transfering her dower rights. 21

Mark wrote his will Jan.22,1734, named his wife Elizabeth and his son Nathan, to whom he gave but 5 shillings, referring to "an estate that he hath assured him by his grandfather Barlow which he now possesses, yt to be his portion out of my estate." He also named his sons Samuel, Lettice and Aaron, and his daughters Beulah and Elizabeth.

The widow, Elizabeth (Barlow)Jenney, was living Mar.14,1760, when she was mentioned in the will of her son, Aaron.

12 MEHITABLE [4] JENNEY (John [3], Samuel [2], John [1]), born in Dartmouth, Mass., Sept.26,1673, living Mar.21,1726/7. being mentioned in her father's will, but the date and place of her death have not been found. She lived, at times before her marriage, with Judge Thomas Leonard. The Judge's wife, Mary (Watson) was Mehitable's mother's cousin. Mary Watson Leonard's sister, Phebe Watson Shaw, widow of Sgt. James Shaw, married Mehitable's father, as his second wife, becoming Mehitable's step-mother. 120

Mehitable married in 1703, Gideon Gifford, born in Falmouth, Mass., Oct.1667, died before 1752, son of William Jr. and Hannah Gifford. 121

13 SAMUEL [4] JENNEY (John [3], Samuel [2], John [1],) born in Dartmouth, Mass., Feb.4,1678, died there, Apr.3,1715, aged thirty seven. He married before 1703, Mary, perhaps Gifford, dau. of William and Mary (Mills) Gifford.

Their homestead was entirely embedded within his father's, so that surveyors entered into their records- "Land of the two Jenneys surveyed July 10,1713." After Samuel's death, his widow is said to have married Nathaniel Sherman, hence the notation in Samuel's father's will, "my daughter-in-law, Mary Sherman". The Shermans brought up the children of Samuel Jenney, the youngest, Mary, being born a few days after her father died.

18 CORNELIUS [4] JENNEY (Lettice[3],Samuel[2],John[1]),born in Dartmouth,Mass.,Nov.3,1697,died there Oct.12,1774,and was buried in the old Acushnet Cemetery. He married,before 1721,Elizabeth....,whose parents are not known. She was born about 1697 and died Mar 18,1743. He married secondly,Eleanor (Cole) Young,in Eastham,Mass.,born Apr.16, 1711,daughter of Daniel and Sarah (Hubbard) Cole,and widow of Henry Young,who died after 1738,leaving Eleanor with three children. Cornelius and Eleanor were married in 95
Eastham Dec.3,1745. 19,74

In the town meeting records of Dartmouth,Cornelius was chosen tithingman in 1728,surveyor of highways in 1731,he served on the grand jury in 1732,was one of the constables in 1738,and served on the petty jury;in 1747 he was again surveyor of highways,and served in other offices.

His land transactions are numerous,so much so that we have not tried to list them. Between 1732 and 1741 he added to his inherited land by purchases from Nathaniel and Jethro Delano,Thomas Church,Elnathan Eldred,Louis Demoranville,and William Spooner. Between 1736 and 1765 he sold to Elnathan Aldridge,George Babcock,Jeremiah Bennett,Louis Demoranville,Deliverance Eldridge,Jonathan Kenney,Moses 21
Mendell,Elnathan Spooner,Joseph Taber Jr. and Zaccheus Toby.

Cornelius wrote his will on Sept.3,1771. He mentioned his wife,Elaner,sons Jethro,Levi,Benjamin,Cornelius,Timothy, Jehezel,Henry and Jabez,and daughters Jean,Jemima,Deborah, Esther,Hannah and Rebecca. Cornelius and both his wives are buried in the famous old cemetery in Acushnet,where their gravestones read:

30 SAMUEL [4] JENNEY (Mark[3],Samuel[2],John[1]),born in Dartmouth, Mass.,Feb.3,1704/5,died there between Apr.4 and May 20, 1742. He married in Dartmouth Feb.7,1730/1,Jerusha Patterson,of unidentified parentage,who was living in 1770.

Jerusha Jenney,widow of Samuel,appears to have married for a second husband Benjamin Johns of Durham,Vt.,"In ye Otter Creek",for,on Oct.10,1770,Benjamin Johns with wife Jerusha sold to Simpson Jenney of Dartmouth one fourth of the real estate of their son,Aaron Jenney,late of Dartmouth, deceased.

Others who appear as heirs to the real estate of Aaron Jenney were Daniel Wright and wife,Ann,and Elizabeth,wife of Thomas White. This group moved to Vermont and later to New York State.

Samuel made his will Apr.1742,and mentions his wife, Jerusha,sons Simpson and Aaron,and daughters Anna,Ruth,Elizabeth, and Experience,who was not quite seven years old.

Family notes state that Simpson Jenney and Aaron,with several of their cousins,shipped on a voyage to London during the time when England and France were at war. They were pressed into service for the English. Aaron became ill and was put ashore on one of the West Indies Islands with Yellow Fever.He was never heard from again.

Children,born in Dartmouth,all but the youngest baptized there:

31 AARON [4] JENNEY (Mark[3],Samuel[2],John[1]),born in Dartmouth, Mass.,Sept.8,1706,died there in 1760. He married Nov. 23,1733,Patience Keith of unidentified parentage,who was living as late as Jan.11,1776,when she was mentioned in the division of the estate of her son,Samuel.

Aaron appears in Dartmouth records,in 1733 as a petty juror,1735 as a fence viewer,and in 1745/6 as one of the tithingmen.

Aaron served from Dartmouth in the Expedition to Crown Point,from Mar.31 to Nov.15,1758;his name is on the roll of Capt.Job Winslow.

Only two transfers of land are on record in Aaron's name: in 1744 he sold a small parcel of land to Deborah Spooner,and in 1754 sold 14 acres to John Robbins.

Aaron died in 1760,after making a will,declaring himself "sick and weak in body". He referred to his father, Mark Jenney,who had died in 1742,and his mother,Elizabeth Jenney as then living.He mentioned his wife,five sons and five daughters.

On July 7,1761 Hezekiah Winslow was appointed guardian to three minor children of Aaron Jenney,deceased,-Samuel, Mark and Stephen.

Children,born in Dartmouth:

72 i. George b.May 15,1735;m.Sarah Flood 11

ii. Mary b.Sept.10,1737,d.Feb.14,1820,widow of Henry Wrightington,whom she married Mar.11,1756, son of Robert and Abigail Wrightington. Child:(Wrightington)Aaron b.ca.1771,d.Mar.23,1792.

iii. Nathan b.Feb.21,1739,d.bef.1768.He m.Betty Ashley of Freetown May 3,1760 Child: REBECCA

73 iv. Experience b.Dec.6,1741,m.Ishmael Tripp

v. Stephen b.ca.1743,d.between 1760 and 1768,gave Revolutionery service in Vermont. 26

vi. Samuel b.Feb.24,1745/6;d.unm. before Feb.20, 1768. He was a boat builder. His heirs were his brothers Mark and George,and sisters Mary, Temperance,Experience,Lucretia and Rebecca, only child of his brother Nathan,deceased.

vii. Temperance b.May 24,1747;m.Robert Taylor Dec.1,1765. Robert and his wife sold their land in 1770 and 1771 and after this date no further mention of them or any children is recorded. They may have moved to Vermont with other members of the family. A Robert Taylor and family were listed in the 1790 census of Woodstock,Vt. Robert was a blacksmith.

viii. Lucretia b.June 29,1749,m.Jeremiah Parker of Freetown,Mass.Nov.5,1767.and they probably went to Vermont. A Jeremiah Parker,born in Freetown,was in Leicester,Vt. as early as 1771,when he settled on Otter Creek near Rutland. Later,in 1774,he was of Charlestown,N.H.,and history tells that he came there from Massachusetts about 1774. Both father and son were captured by the Indians,but the father was released because he was deaf.

Jeremiah Parker m.three times; his first wife was Lucretia Jenney,by whom it is said he had six children;his second wife,perhaps named Hix,is said to have had 7 children,and in his old age he had a third wife. The six children by Lucretia are not all known,but probably four of them are: 1. Jeremiah Jr., 2.Leonard, 3.Stephen J.,b.in Freetown in 1770,4.Chloe, born in Leicester,Mar.2,1777;m.Ebenezer Jenney (#158)

ix.Mark b.Aug.4,1751;no marriage or death record has been found for him. He is called a mariner in 1772;when he shared in his brother Samuel's estate. He rendered service in the Revolutionary War in Vermont,his name is entered twice for such service,after the second entry are the words,"went home". 26 x.Anne b.before 1760,mentioned in her father's will,but must have died before 1768,because she is not mentioned in her brother's.

32 ELIZABETH [4] JENNEY (Mark[3],Samuel[2],John[1]),born in Dartmouth, Mass.,Sept. 7,1714,died there Dec.14,1747.She married in Dartmouth Mar.29,1738,Jedediah Hammond,born in Rochester Dec.16,1711,living in 1767,son of Seth and Mercy (Randall) Hammond.

He married secondly,at Rochester on Aug.11,1748, Mary Bolles. By his second wife he had eight children, Deborah,Simpson,Phineas,Patience,Anna,Parnell,Ruth, and Jedediah,the last being born in 1767.

He had five children by Elizabeth Jenney,all born in Dartmouth: (Hammond)

i. Zilpha b.July 5,1738

v. Elizabeth b.June 12,1747;m.Freeman Ashley.

33 LETTICE [4] JENNEY (Mark[3],Samuel[2],John[1]),born in Dartmouth, Mass.,June 16,1716,died there Jan.6,1752. He married in Plympton,Mass.,Nov.17,1743,Marcy (or Mercy) Robbins of that town,born Oct.25,1721,living in 1758,probably daughter of Jeduthan and Rebecca(Crocker) Robbins. She married secondly John Robbins of Plympton,Nov.22,1753.

The widow Marcy Jenney was appointed to administer the estate of Lettice Jenney,and was appointed guardian to her two daughters,both under fourteen. On Nov.24,1765, Simpson Jenney was made their guardian.

Town records show that Lettice Jenney was a minor office holder in 1745 and 1747;not a large land holder, he sold thrity-five acres in 1748.

Lettice Jenney built his house partly on land belonging to Nathaniel Blackwell. In 1755,out of consideration of the widow and children,Mr.Blackwell granted the land on which the house stood to Lettice Jenney's heirs. 21

Children, born in Dartmouth:

74 i. Hepzibah b.Mar.23,1746/7;m.Simpson Jenney (#71)
ii. Mary b.May 7,1749,was living as late as Jan., 1774. She m.Jeduthan Hammond,Nov.3,1764 in Dartmouth.He was son of Jedediah and Elizabeth(Jenney) Hammond (#32). He was a mariner and died about 1836 in Rochester,Mass.
Children (Hammond): 1.Jane m.Ephriam Landers and Obed Griffith; 2.Elizabeth; 3.Jeduthan; 4.Paul, born May 20,1772,d.May 3,1795; 5.Jedediah; 6.Mary; 7,Lettice b.Mar.1778,d.Sept.2,1852;8.Lydia;9,Hepzibeth.
iii. Rebecca...."daughter of Seth" was baptized on Sept.2, 1744. We can find no other Seth in Dartmouth of suitable age,and have noticed that two other Jenneys named Lettice were also called Seth,so we think Rebecca belongs here, 34 LYDIA [5] JENNEY (Samuel[4],John[3],Samuel[2],John[1]),born in Dartmouth, Mass.,Jan.19,1703,was living in 1742,but no date has been found for her death. She was married Apr.4,1725 in Dartmouth to James Babcock,born June 22,1722,son of Return and Sarah (Deneson) Babcock,but the date and place of his death have not been found.

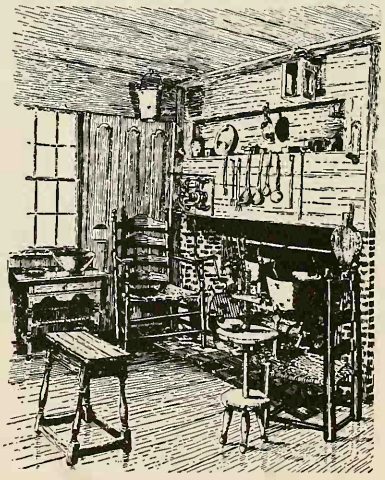
There are no records found regarding this family; they must have moved west after 1742.

Children born in Dartmouth(Babcock):

i.. Leah b.Feb.29,1726;perhaps m.Joseph Sherman Jr.
ii. Sarah b.Oct.23,1729;perhaps m.David Ball
iii. James b.July 27,1732
iv. Samuel b.Feb.27,1734/5
v. Mary b.Sept.14,1737
vi. Unice b.Jan.27,1739/40
vii. Lydia b.Aug.5,1742;perhaps m.Lemuel Perry.



35 JOB [5] JENNEY (Samuel[4],John[3],Samuel[2],John[1]),born in Dartmouth, Mass.,July 11,1705,died there between June 1761,when he was mentioned as on a church committee,and May 20,1768, 11 when he was again referred to in the same church records. He married in Rochester,Mass.,Jan.11,1727/8,Keziah Briggs, born in Rochester Sept.6,1702,daughter of John and Ruth 15 (Barrow) Briggs.

Job was ten years old when his father died,and was brought up in the home of his step-father,Nathaniel Sherman. By his grandfather's will,he was given two-thirds of the Jenney farm in the woods,and meadow and upland of Sconticut Neck,but was also enjoined,as eldest son,to pay one hundred pounds to Nathaniel Sherman as compensation for work done on Jenney land and for bringing up Samuel's children.

On May 30,1731,he was admitted to the Dartmouth Church, 12 and it seems that for him more than for any of the other Jenneys,excepting only his grandfather,John,his life centered around the church. He was chosen a deacon on June 2,1742. 63

There are numerous items in the church records,showing Job to have been very active in church affairs. He has only three transactions showing that he bought land;he sold none. Deacon Job died in 1768,his inventory taken on July 27, 21 of that year. His widow evidently outlived him by nine years.

Children,born in Dartmouth:

75	i.	Samuel	b.Mar.11,1730;m.Bethia Rider
76	ii.	Seth	b.Mar.27,1732;m.Hannah Rider
	iii.	Ruth	b.Nov.6,1734;m.John Eastland Oct.22,1751
77	iv.	Job	b.Mar.25,1738;m.Hannah Dexter
78	v.	Keziah	b.July 22,1740;m.Lot Tobey
79	vi.	Sarah	b.Aug.18,1745;m.Sylvanus Tobey.

36 JOHN [5] JENNEY (Samuel[4],John[3],Samuel[2],John[1]),born in Dartmouth, 11
Mass.,Sept.28,1712. He was not yet three years old when his father died,and he was brought up in the home of his step-father,Nathaniel Sherman. Until 1755 he was usually designated as John Jenne Jr.,to distinguish him from his uncle, John.

John appears to have had two wives. The first was a daughter of his step-father,Nathaniel Sherman,but her given name is not known. His second wife was Mary Maxfield,daughter of 114
Timothy and Lydia (Sherman) Maxfield,whom he married May 10, 1745 in Uxbridge,Mass.

John bought and sold many parcels of land,and in 1758 21 sold off most of their property and removed to Rhode Island. Both John and Mary were alive when the census of Rhode Island was taken in 1782.

Children,never recorded,but probably:

80	i.	Seth	b.Uxbridge Mar.18,1746;m.Abigail Aldrich 36
81	ii.	Timothy	m.Abigail Ballou. 37

37 MARY ^{5}JENNEY (Samuel^{4}, John^{3}, Samuel^{2}, John^{1}) born in Dartmouth, Mass., Apr.7,1715, date of death not known. She married in Dartmouth Jan.24,1733/4, Thomas Kenney, born in Dartmouth Sept.19,1698, died there about 1778, son of John and Lydia (Taber) Kenney.

Only one transfer of land is recorded for Thomas Kenney, husbandman. He sold one-fifth of two-eights of a lot of ten acres, the land of his father, John Kenney and his grandfather, Thomas Taber.

Thomas Kenney wrote his will on Nov.29,1775, mentioning his wife, her half sister, and all his children except John.

Children, born in Dartmouth, (Kenney):

i. John b.Aug.6,1735; d.before 1775
ii. Samuel b.Jan.25,1740/1; m.Patience Wing
iii. Mary b.Feb.17,1747/8; m.Michael Hathaway
iv. Jacob b.Sept.9,1749; m.Parnel Hammond.

38 EPHRIAM ^{5} JENNEY (John ^{4}, ^{3}, Samuel^{2}, John^{1}), born in Dartmouth, Mass., Feb.20,1716, died after 1780 in Grantham, NH. He married Nov.26,1741, Lydia Cushman, daughter of James and Sarah (Hatch) Cushman of Dartmouth, who died in New Bedford Feb.11,1799.

Ephriam lived for some time in Dartmouth, where he was admitted to the church in 1756, and some of his children were recorded there.

In 1779 he sold part of his homestead farm, and in 1780 he sold the rest, after which time he is supposed to have lived in Grantham, New Hampshire.

He left no will, so that compiling a list of his children is difficult, except for the four which were recorded.

Children, born in Dartmouth and probably in Grantham:

82 i. Isaac b.May 5,1743; m.Margaret Thompson
83 ii. James b.Aug.23,1744; m.Miriam Pope
iii. Joanna b.Apr.18,1746; prob.m.Silas Church of Grantham,1791

v. Abigail b.Sept.14,1751
vi. Stephen b.ca.1753; in Rev.War 2777,1780,1781. May have moved to Troy, Mich., and changed name to Jennings.
84 vii. Ebenezer b.ca.1756; m.Dorcas Pope
? viii. Ephriam only record 1794, joined with Stephen in asking more pay for service in the late war.

39 ALICE ^{5} JENNEY (John^{4}, ^{3}, Samuel^{2}, John^{1}) born in Dartmouth, Mass., Oct.1,1718, died there Oct.21,1805. She married, as his second wife, on Feb.12,1761, Thomas Pope, born about 1709, died in Dartmouth Mar.25,1784, son of John and Elizabeth (Bourne) Pope of Sandwich.

Their first home was in Sandwich, then in Dartmouth His dwelling was the first building burned by the British troops after leaving the "head of the river" in their raid of 1778.

Child, born in Dartmouth (Pope):

i. Nabby b.Nov.11,1761; d.Nov.16,1831; m.Capt.William Gordon, Jan.4,1791.

40 ELIZABETH [5] JENNEY (John [4], [3], Samuel [2], John [1]), born in Dartmouth, Mass., Jan.24,1725, died there Aug.24,1810. She married in Dartmouth Mar.12,1752, Elnathan Spooner, born in Dartmouth Nov.20,1730, died there May 29,1816, son of Samuel and Deborah (Pope) Spooner.

Elnathan Spooner received from his father the old homestead, where this family resided, and at his death he bequeathed it to his son, Thomas.

Children, recorded in Dartmouth. (Spooner):

i. Lemuel b.Feb.3,1753; is said to have been killed in the Revolution after 1774
ii. Deborah b.Apr.17,1756; d.Oct.12,1834, unm.
iii. Abigail b.May 11,1759; d.Oct.21,1829, unm.
iv. Seth b.Mar.8,1762; m.Mary Read, rem.to N.Y. State
v. Thomas b.ca.1764; d.unm Sept.2,1837. He resided on the old homestead in Dartmouth with his unmarried sisters.
vi. Lot b.ca.1766, was a mariner. It is said that he sailed about 1800 on a voyage, probably to the East Indies, and was never heard from again.

JOHN [5] JENNEY (John [4], [3], Samuel [2], John [1]), born in Dartmouth, Mass., Nov. 2,1730, died in Hardwick, Mass., May 31,1796. He married in Dartmouth Nov.23,1829, Abigail Spooner, born in Dartmouth Apr.11,1732, died in Hardwick Dec.10,1829, dau.of Samuel and Deborah (Pope) Spooner. 84

Their homestead was on the east bank of the Acushnet River, half way between "head of the river" and the wharf. About 1744 he removed his family to Hardwick, in the western part of the state, but this wasn't a permanent removal. By 1763 he was back in Dartmouth, and his four youngest children were baptized there. When the Revolution broke out, both he and his son John gave service. 66 25

Dartmouth, being a seacoast town, was more exposed to enemy attacks, so in 1777 the Jenneys moved back to Hardwick, selling the homestead "given to me by last will and testament of my hon'd father, John Jenne Deceased."

Children, born in Dartmouth and Hardwick:

85 i. Zephaniah b.Aug.2,1753; m.Martha Eddy
86 ii. John b.Mar.16,1755; m.Hannah Perry
iii. Joanna b.ca.1757, d.Mar.10,1835.
87 iv. Esther b.ca.1759; m.Moses Hunt
v. Elnathan bapt.May 8,1763. Changed his name to Jennings, rem.to Ohio, then Rockford, Ill., served in the Revolution in 1776 from Dartmouth, and in 1778 from Hardwick.
88 vi. Abigail bapt.May 10,1772; m.Elijah Billings
vii. Alice d.y.

42 JABEZ [5] JENNEY (Cornelius[4],Lettice[3],Samuel[2],John[1]),born in Dartmouth,Mass.,Jan.22,1722/23;died in New Bedford,Mass., Dec.31,1803.He married first Ruth Nickerson of Chatham on Jan.8,1742/3.(Her name in some records appears as Ricketson) His second marriage was posted to Elizabeth Howard,dau.of Matthew and Phebe(Bumpus) Howard,Jr.,b.May.22,1731,but "the said Jabez Jenne do utterly forbid the banes of marriage." However,the marriage took place,Feb.11,1776. He gave service in the Revolution,inherited land from his father, and in 1746 added to this land when he bought more from Hezekiah Tinkcum. In 1788 he sold the land he inherited from his father to Jethro Hathaway.

Jabez exercised the greatest irregularity in entering the births of his children. The first four were recorded in Dartmouth,but baptized in Rochester. The next were recorded in Dartmouth,but not baptized. The next two have no birth records,but were baptized,one in Dartmouth,one in Rochester.The children of the second marriage were neither recorded nor baptized.

Children by first wife:

45 JAHAZIEL [5] JENNEY (Cornelius[4],Lettice[3],Samuel[2],John[1])born probably in Dartmouth,MA.,about 1730.He married in Dartmouth,Nov.8,1770,Sarah Hammond,born Apr.19,1748,daughter of William and Elizabeth (Shepherd) Hammond.

In 1760 he served seven months in the invasion of Canada. He was a soldier in the Revolution. He sold property to his brother Henry in 1779,and in 1781 gave his brother,Capt.Benjamin,a promissory note,for which Benjamin's widow sued in 1795. In 1786 some of Jahaziel's land was sold to compensate her. Jahaziel was called a mariner 151 22 21

A Jahaziel was baptised at Dartmouth on Mar.24,1775. 12 This was probably he himself,but possibly a son of the same name. There is no record of other children.

46 HANNAH [5] JENNEY (Cornelius[4],Lettice[3],Samuel[2],John[1]),born in Dartmouth,Mass.,June 30m1731,died Oct.29,1794.She married in Dartmouth,Feb.19,1756,Abishai Delano,born in Dartmouth July 9,1731,died June 19,1818,son of Thomas and Jean(Peckham) Delano.

v. Susanna b.Feb.16,1767.

48 CORNELIUS [5] JENNEY (Cornelius[4],Lettice[3],Samuel[2],John[1]),born probably in Dartmouth about 1742,was a mariner,and died before Oct.29,1774. He married Betsey(Elizabeth) Tobey, born Apr.24,1743,daughter of Zacheus and Sarah (Pope) 80
Tobey.

Cornelius bought land twice,both times in Dartmouth;in Sept.1765 from Samuel Kenney,and in May,1771,from Abishai Delano. He must have died only a few days after his father, for Corlenius Sr. died Oct.12,1774 and Cornelius Jr's inventory was taken Oct.25,1774. The widow was some time in settling the estate,and in 1778 she asked permission to sell land to settle debts,and in the next few months sold three small parcels.

Cornelius' inventory included one quarter part of the Sloop "Betty" ,with sails,rigging,and whaling craft.

Children:

96 i. Japtha b.July 5,1766;m.1.Deborah Kenney,m.2.Hannah Eldridge,3.Mariah Ellis.

49 BENJAMIN [5] JENNEY (Cornelius[4],Lettice[3],Samuel[2],John[1]),born in Dartmouth,Mass.,Feb.28,1744,died in Hispaniola on Dec.25, 11
1781. He married first Sylvia,last name not known,but she died Oct.12,1767,aged 19,and is buried beside his second wife, 33
Barsheba Bassett,whom he married in Feb. of 1768.She was born Dec.14,1744,and died Apr.30,1777 . Benjamin's third wife was 93
Louisa Hathaway,born Apr.13,1756,daughter of Jacob and Hannah 11
(Clark) Hathaway,whom he married on Aug.15,1779 111

Benjamin was one of the very earliest whaling captains, 71 and was a sergeant in the Revolution,serving in Rhode Island first as a private in Samuel Briggs Company,and then as a sergeant in Capt.Henry Jenney's Company in 1781.

After his death,his widow had to sue his brother,Jahaziel, for an overdue promissary note,then sold land to settle her husband's estate. Two days after this was accomplished,she married Rev.Samuel West,D.D.,outstanding pastor of the Precinct Church. She died Mar.18,1797. 111

51 LEVI [5] JENNEY (Cornelius[4],Lettice[3],Samuel[2],John[1]),born in Dartmouth Mass.,July 16,1750,died in Fairhaven,Mass.,Oct.11,1806.and is buried in the Nemasket Cemetery on property that was his grandfather's . He married in Dartmouth May.9,1776,Molly Blossom,born Mar.28,1758,dau.of Benjamin and Bathsheba (Percival) Blossom. Molly died Oct.25,1807.

Levi was a mariner and was called yeoman. On Sept.14, 1779 he was commissioned commander of the schooner"Phoenix" a privateer,then lying in Dartmouth harbor,and he had other service in the Revolution. One of his experiences on a privateer is given in a book entitled "New Bedford One Hundred and Twenty Years Ago.",taken from a New Bedford newspaper of an early date. This reads as follows:

" The Captain of the Brig Polly,Levi Jenne,whose vessel had arrived in New Bedford from St.Markis with a prizemaster and three men,put on board by a Newprovidence " Pickaroon...."

"Capt.Jenne submitted first to the examination of his papers by two strangers;when they had left,a strange ship came alongside and he was hailed "with a bruitish manner",with naked cutlass and pistols in their hands,and he had to sail under their orders on a course to Cuba,-but owing to a small wind his ship did not get far. He and his people were kept in constant fear of losing their lives.

"Then they ran into a fleet of nine sail,three of them privateers,and after the commodore had spent the whole day "hucking from vessel to vessel," a prizemaster was put aboard the"Polly" ,one other man and two negroes,"the last three mentioned not worth one farthing only to encumber us as lumber upon the deck",and she sailed toward Newprovidence,in the Banamas;-then her men refused to sail her except for New Bedford, the prizemaster confessed himself helpless,and Capt.Jenne and the "Polly" came along in due time into their home harbor,with the four strangers aboard."

On Jan.1,1778,Levi Jenne,Mariner,sold all the lands which his father had given him. On Dec.16,1785,he bought twenty-one acres,and later bought much more land.

When he died,his eldest son was appointed guardian of his five youngest children.

71 SIMPSON [5] JENNEY (Samuel[4],Mark[3],Samuel[2],John[1]),born in Dartmouth,Apr.2,1737,died in St.Armand,Quebec,May 8, 1813. He married in Dartmouth July 5,1764,Hepzibah Jenney,born in Dartmouth Mar.23,1746/7,died in St. Armand Nov.15,1818,daughter of Lettice and Mary(Robbins) Jenney (#74)

When a young man,Simpson Jenney shipped with his brother Aaron and several cousins,on a voyage to London. The French and English were at war,and the young men were taken capture by the English and pressed into service. Aaron was taken ill and put ashore on one of the West Indies,and never heard from again.

In 1763 Simpson Jenney,mariner,sold about 7 3/4 acres of land that had been given him by his father;on May 18 1766 he and Hepzibah,her sister Mary and Mary's husband Jeduthan Hammond sold land in Dartmouth which the women had inherited from their father.

Between 1775 and 1778 Simpson and Hepzibah moved from Dartmouth to Clarendon,Vt.,then later to St.Armand, Quebec. Simpson was a Tory,and this may have been the reason. While in Vermont he lived at a place called Chippenhook,part of Clarendon,also called Durham;during the early part of the Revolution,"Coroner"Jenney's house was burned.

George Jenney appears several times in Bristol Co, land transfers,the first being Jan.26,1761,and the last Feb.4,1772,when he sold all right in his brother Samuel's estate.

The next mention of George Jenney is in the 1790 census,when he appears in the town of Wallingford,Vt., Apparently his brother Mark and sister Lucretia Parker and he had all moved to Vermont.

George and his sons bought land in Wallingford, and in 1803 an agreement was reached between George and his son Aaron in which,for $400,all profits of Aaron's farm were to go to George and Sarah,for their natural lives,and Aaron was to assist them in comfortable support.

George Jenney served in the Revolution under Capt. Ichabod Robinson in Clarendon,Vermont,in 1790

He lived in New Bedford,and is mentioned in all the histories of that place,being unquestionably New Bedford's most renowned practical joker. He kept a store,which is pictured in Pease's History of New Bedford,and in the painting by William A.Wall of Old New Bedford,-easily recognized ny his peculiar appearance: he was short and cripple,one leg being shorter than the other and supplied with an iron foot, attached to his boot. He used a cane,on which he leaned heavily with both hands;walking was difficult. He was remarkable for the way in which he could change his expression, which was enhanced by large grey eyes. His jokes were the delight of historians,who tell of his outwitting port inspectors, smuggling coffee and taking a sleigh ride in July.

Jahaziel owned a little sloop,the "Mary Ann",with which he made trips up the "North River" as the Hudson was then called.He was also a member of the fire department.

108 WILLIAM [6] JENNEY (Timothy[5],Cornelius[4],Lettice[3],Samuel[2],John[1]) born probably in Dartmouth,Mass.,about 1781,died at sea Nov.or Dec. 1809,when the ship"Thetis" was lost.

The "Thetis" left New Bedford Nov.15,1809,for Savannah, Georgia,with 34 men aboard,many of them young family men seeking work in the south. The New Bedford area was at that time experiencing financial difficulty...in fact, during this time part of Fairhaven was called"Poverty Point". A white squall upset the sloop on a wintry sea. Capt.John Taber and four others were the only survivors. William Jenney had signed on as blacksmith's apprentice. Ebenezer Jenne was the Mate.

William had married in Middleborough,Mass.,Jan.6,1805 to Lydia Pierce,born there Oct.17,1781,died in Lakeville, Mass.,Dec.26,1863,daughter of Henry and Salome(Hinds) Pierce. She married secondly Capt.Nathaniel Staples of Berkeley,Mass.

208 ELISHA [7] JENNEY (Levi[6],[5],Cornelius[4],Lettice[3],Samuel[2],John[1]), born in Fairhaven,Mass.,Nov.7,1803,died in Galesburg,Ill, Nov.11,1882. He married first,in Keene ,N.H.,June 6,1833, Loretta Hitchcock,who died Sept.27,1833,daughter of Dr. Lucius and Athelrid(Hall)Hitchcock,and for his second wife he married her sister, Adeline Marietta Hitchcock,who was born in St.Mary's,Ga.,Aug.11,1805,and died in Galesburg Feb.23,1891. The second marriage took place in Keene,July 24,1835.

Elisha ,as a boy,was trained by his father for the counting house,but the boy's uncle,Stephen Jenney, persuaded his father to let him study for the ministry. Accordingly,Elisha left Jenney Wharf,and studied at Philips Andover,and completed his training at Dartmouth,where he was Phi Beta Kappa,and a close friend of Salmon P.Chase, who later became Secretary of the Treasury under Lincoln, and still later Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

Elisha tutored for a time in Keene,then joined the Yale Illinois Band,and went west. An admirer of Jean Frederic Oberlin,Elisha similarly devoted his life to evangelical works,founding churches,and founding schools of higher learning,including Illinois College at Jacksonville,Ill.,Monticello Seminary for Women. It was while he was superintendant at Monticello that his son was born.

While tutoring at Keene,Elijah fell in love with Loretta Hitchcock,who had been going with Salmon Chase for years,but showed no signs of getting married. She went as a student teacher to Illinois,and Elisha,then with the Yale-Illinois Band,went there and married her. She lived less than a year,and Elisha went back to Keene and married her sister.

Bernard lived in South Boston from the time he was ten years old until his death,attending the Hawes School and English High School there. After graduation,he joined his father,who was a merchant selling whale oil,sperm oil, and West India goods. In 1853 he withdrew from the Stephen Jenney Company and built a factory in South Boston to manufacture Burning Fluid,composed of camphene and alcohol, which replaced to a great extent sperm oil for illuminating purposes. Stephen Jenney & Co.were the selling agents. When petroleum was discovered in Pennsylvania Bernard changed his factory over to refine petroleum which he brought from Pennsylvania in flat cars with huge wooden tubs on them,-forerunners of todays tank cars. In 1884 the business of Bernard Jenney,refiner,and Stephen Jenney, agent,merged and incorporated as the Jenney Manufacturing Company,of which Bernard was President until his death.

Competition with the fast growing Standard Oil Co. was very keen,but Bernard steadfastly refused to sell to them. They offered to buy him out,but offered not cash,but stock in their company,which he considered worthless. Little by little he bought out the interest of his brother,and became sole owner.

He was for many years a member of the Board of Investment of the South Boston Savings Bank and a Director of the Hersey Manufacturing Company. He belonged to the Society of Mayflower Descendants,the Society of Colonial Wars,and the Bostonian Society. He was a charter member of the Rabboni Lodge,A.F. and A.M. of Dorchester,member of the St. Matthews Royal Arch Chapter,the St.Omar Commandery of Knight Templars,and was an original member of the Boston Yacht Club.

William McK.Jenne was an ingenious and versatile mechanic. He spent a few of his early years as a school teacher and afterwards worked as a carpenter, buildre, millwright, wagon maker and in the manufacture of special machinery. He assisted Professor Lyman in constructing a sixteen foot telescope, and also built a set of machinery for a bookbinding establishment, which contained special devices of his own invention, one being the earliest machine for cutting out and making envelopes. In building wagons he also used several labor saving machines of his own invention and manufacture.

He was educated in Public schools, then spent a few years on a farm. He was born with a strong predelection for mechanics and entered a machine shop in Lee, Mass., to learn the trade and continued there for three years. He advanced rapidly and laid the foundation of the rare mechanical skill which became of so much importance to him in after years.

In 1861 the firm in Holyoke, Mass., with which he was associated was awarded a large contract from the Remingtons for manufacture of certain parts of firearms and Mr.Jenne was sent to Ilion, N.Y. as a skilled mechanic for the manufacture of the fine and accurate tools needed in the business, After completing this work, Mr.Jenne was given the contract for the manufacture of the Eliot Pistol. Before the sale of the pistol declined, he had become interested in the perfection of a sewing machine for heavy work on leather, and from this was developed the manufacture of sewing machines by the Remingtons, a very important branch of their great industry.

In 1873, a crude typewriter was brought to the Remingtons, and this opened a new field of manufacture. The first machine was constructed by Mr.Jenne and Mr. Clough, and from that two or three were built as samples, Mr.Jenne doing the large part of the work. He then built another typewriter, embracing various improvements, and soon the Remington Typewriter was placed on the market. From that time the changes and improvements were constant and numerous, with Mr.Jenne in charge of the project.

490 CHARLES FRANCIS [9] JENNEY (Charles E.[8], Edwin[7], William[6], Timothy[5], Cornelius, Lettice[3], Samuel[2], John[1]), born in Middleborough, Mass., Sept. 16, 1860, died in Boston, Mass., Nov. 29, 1923. He married in Hyde Park, Mass., Oct. 12, 1886, Mary Ellen Bruce, daughter of Joseph and Mary E. Bruce of Nova Scotia.

His early life was spent on a farm, and he attended district school until he was twelve. His family moved to North Bridgewater, (Now Brockton) Mass., and he graduated at the head of his class in 1878. His scholarly habit of mind and love of learning were manifested by the fact that he took every course the school offered, except stenography, and missed that only due to lack of time in the day. After graduating he taught for two years in Brockton schools.

In 1883 he was graduated from the Law School of Boston University, again at the head of his class, Summa Cum Laude. he finished the three year course in two years, and was admitted to the Bar of Norfolk County in 1882, receiving his degree of Bachelor of Law the following year. He practiced law first in Hyde Park, then in Boston.

In 1886 he was Republican representative to the General Court of Massachusetts; in 1907 and 1908 he was a member of the Massachusetts Senate; from 1885 to 1909 he was an instructor and lecturer in Massachusetts Practice in Boston University Law School; in 1909 he was appointed a justice of the Superior Court; and in 1919 of the Supreme Judicial Court.

Judge Jenney was prominent in town affairs in Hyde Park. His hobbies were the study of birds and plants, on which subjects he was an authority.

CHAPTER -2-

By the NAME OF JENNINGS-by Herman Winslow Jennings

It has been seen (pages 63 and 86) that Henry[5] Jenney, accompanied by his wife Phebe,his son Henry 6,and the latters wife,Meribah,removed from Mass.to Milton,Saratoga County,N.Y. sometime between 1795 and 1800. It was about this time that the name started to appear as Jennings. The reason for the move to New York State is not definately known,but was probably economic , a consequence of the chaotic financial consitions which prevailed during early post-Revolutionary era. Even less is known as to the possible reasons for the variation in name. The first time it is known to have appeared as Jennings was in 1800 (2nd U.S.census) in Milton Twp. The change did not occur as a clean break,marked by any specific date.It is recorded that on Oct.23,1806,and again on Sept.28,1810,"Henry Jenne of the Town of Milton,County of Saratoga,State of New York "sold certain parcels of land situated in New Bedford,Mass. In this instance,reversion to the use of the name Jenne(y) was probably occasioned by Henry's name so appearing on deeds to the land in question.

The year 1810 marks another milestone in the affairs of Henry 5 and Henry 6 and their families.The name still appears in the 1810 (3rd U.S. census for Milton but they were already preparing to move further west. Late in 1810,Henry (which one is not clear) went to Penfield,Ontario County,N.Y. where he acquired land and made preparations for the rest of the family. They moved there the following year. Penfield is in that portion of Ontario County later set apart as Monroe County. Several of the children of Henry 6, remained in that county,were married and raised their children there,and are buried at the Union Hill Cemetery about 14 or 15 miles easterly from Rochester. Others continued the migration westward. The purpose of this chapter is to provide an account of one of those children and his descendants- a line which,though directly descended from John Jenney,has borne the name of Jennings for more than a century and a half.

102-1 LEVI [7] JENNINGS ,the son of Henry[6],and his wife Meribah, (Dexter) was born Apr.2,1808 at Milton,Saratoga Co.and died Jan.22,1899 at Rollin,Lenawee Co.Mich. On Jan.22,1829 he married (1) at Ontario Ann Crout,dau.of John and Phebe (Von Sickles) Crout,b.Feb.25,1811,d.Apr.17,1852. He m.(2) Catherine Ann(Ditmars) Belcher,dau.of William & Catherine Ann(Petty)Ditmars and widow of Andrew Belcher,b.Trenton,N.J. Apr.1,1835,d.1916.

In 1834,Levi and his family removed to Southern Michigan where he acquired 80 acres in Rollin,Lenawee County. As one of the pioneers in this area,Levi took active part in its development,serving as justice of the peace,town clerk,and highway commissioner, He and both of his wives are buried at the Rollin Cemetery.
